AMERICA BALKS AT RED LEANINGS

WILL NOT FOLLOW BRITAIN IN SEEKING TO RESUME TRADE WITH BOLSHEVIKI

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The collapse of the Wrangel anti-Bolshevik movement in South Russia is viewed by government officials here as having prompted the declaration by Lloyd George in Parliament today that the British Cabinet had decided upon negotiations for resumption of trade relations with Russia. At the same time, it was said, Great Britain is more interested in securing exemption from Bolshevik propaganda in Asia Minor, Persia and India than in establishing actual commercial relations with Russia.

The United States will not follow the lead of Great Britain or France, it was said, if those countries decide to recognize the present Soviet government, even if only to the extent of permitting trading. Department officials said no change in the attitude of the United States toward Russia would result from the British action. The American government, it was explained, believes that Bolshevism is a menace to the stability of the world and that the Russian people themselves are being held in subjection against their will by the Bolsheviki.

FEAR OF RECOGNITION.

Any proposed action of the British government will constitute a form of recognition, officials said, calculated to permit trade to a greater extent than would be possible without de facto relations. Last summer the American government withdrew the restrictions against trading with Russia, but at the same time made it clear to the world that the United States would not admit any commercial relations with Russia that had been constituted as recognition and all attempts of the Bolsheviki to establish such relations.

The negotiations between British and soviet officials, begun abruptly last spring, were, it was said, because of Great Britain's desire that the soviet government refrain from Bolshevik propaganda in the East and particularly in Asia.

SOVIET NOT IN CONTROL.

Government officials said reports that reached here from various sources showed conclusively that the soviet was not in control of Russia; that the Bolsheviki were able to hold only a few places which they had concentrated their troops in Petrograd and Moscow. In addition to these, commissars are sent out to force the peasants to give necessary supplies. In some instances the peasants have driven out these commissars and other officials. The soviet has practically no control in Siberia, the department's advices state.

The wish of the great mass of the Russian people, it was explained, is the eventual death of the present Bolshevik rule in Russia. The opinion was expressed that the movements such as those led by Denikin, Kolchak and Wrangel against the overthrow of Bolshevism were keeping the peasants from helping themselves.

KILPATRICK SAFE.

Capt. Emmett Kilpatrick of the American Red Cross unit in South Russia, who was captured several weeks ago by the soviet army, was reported safe Saturday, October 30. Capt. Kilpatrick has been taken to Moscow, cable advices to Red Cross headquarters today from Sebastopol, quoting an escaped prisoner, said. Earlier reports said Capt. Kilpatrick had been killed after having been stripped and beaten by the soviet troopers.

WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR HER LIFE.

Mrs. Virginia Clark Faces Oakland Jury on Charge of Killing Husband.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Nov. 18.—With the jury box filled with jurymen passed for cause, exercise of peremptory challenges began today in the trial of Mrs. Virginia Clark charged with the murder of her husband, Milton Clark.

It appeared that the jury would not be accepted and sworn before tomorrow, however. Twenty peremptory challenges are allowed to the defense and ten to the prosecution.

The main stumbling block in obtaining a jury thus far has been the interrogation as to whether the veniremen objected to capital punishment for a woman. Among the first ten passed for cause by counsel were two women and eight men.

Judge James G. Quinn, presiding, has excused those prospective jurors who said they could not inflict the death penalty upon Mrs. Clark if she were found guilty of first degree murder.

DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST ATTORNEY.

SACRAMENTO MAN ACCUSED OF IMPERSONATING FEDERAL OFFICER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—Charges of impersonating a Federal officer, and obtaining money under false pretenses, made against Harry Gray, local attorney, were dismissed today by United States Commissioner Wallace Sheppard, for lack of evidence.

Gray was arrested Tuesday on complaint of Prohibition Enforcement Officers A. L. Estele and George Poultney, on a charge of having taken $500 from Manuel Smith, a resort keeper, as protection money.

On the stand today, Smith failed to tell a coherent story of the alleged transaction. Under cross-examination by Attorney Sheridan Downey, for the defense, he became so confused that Commissioner Sheppard announced he would dismiss the case.

DANZIG IS FREE CITY.

Council of League Gives Approval; Assembly Elects Vice-Presidents.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GENEVA, Nov. 18.—Under some circumstances the League of Nations will invite Poland to become the military defender of Danzig, that decision having been informed by the Council of the League.

The Council announced today that the Council had approved the constitution of Danzig as a free city under protection of the League, as previously decided, with some modifications, and after being informed that it was impossible to accord her the necessary right of the military defense of Danzig, circumstances might arise under which the League would invite Poland to undertake the defense.

TROOPS FOR VILNA.

Great Britain and Spain will send troops to Vilna to police during the "popular vote" of the inhabitants, the official statement was made this afternoon at the assembly of the League. It was added that the other League governments already agreed to dispatch contingents.

The session of the Council of the League following the assembly of the League at today's session.

At the session of the assembly, Giuseppe Motta, of Switzerland, was elected president of the first assembly of the League.

Six vice-presidents were elected.

They are: H. A. Van Karnebeek, Foreign Minister of Holland; ... Pueyrredon, Foreign Minister of Argentina; Dr. Eduard Benes, Foreign Minister of Czecho-Slovakia; Sir George E. Foster, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Delegate Octavia of Brazil.

POLAND SIGNS PACT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Ignace Paderewski, former Premier of Poland, signed the convention between Poland and the free city of Danzig at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The convention provides for the establishment of a commission composed half of Poles and half of residents of Danzig, under a neutral chairman, to control the port of Danzig.

RANCH DUEL ENDS IN DEATH FOR ONE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALINAS, Nov. 18.—A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of William Abernathy, cattleman of Indian Valley, Monterey county, yesterday found that Abernathy was shot in self-defense at the home of Leo F. Ferris, whose ranch adjoins the Abernethy property.

Ferris yesterday surrendered himself to Stephen McKenna, constable of Bradley, just after the alleged quarrel and duel took place.

New Orleans Greets President-Elect With Southern Hospitality.

Will Not Stop at Mexican Port Because of Disrupting Ship Schedule.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18.—Sober thinking and an abiding faith in the republic during the critical period of war reconstruction were asked of the American people today by President-elect Harding in an address delivered here just before he sailed for a three weeks' vacation voyage to the Panama Canal Zone.

Some reverses and disappointments, he declared, must come as the aftermath of the world conflict, but he predicted confidently that all of them would pass away again if the people only "kept their heads" and held fast to the old-time virtues of thrift, honesty and common sense. Making his second formal speech since his election, Mr. Harding spoke in studied terms and with a quiet earnestness. But ringing through his address was a predominating note of confidence and unfaltering faith.

"CONFIDENT AMERICA."

"A confident America," buttressed by resources never equaled before by any people and governed by a free, representative government, was the ideal which the President-elect declared must be kept in view. He said no one desired that the old order should return, but he maintained that in building for the new order there must be no acceptance of strange cure-alls and fancy theories.

The address was delivered at a luncheon of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, the central feature of a program of entertainment by which the city sought to show the President-elect that the partisanship of the campaign already had been forgotten. Great street crowds cheered Mr. Harding everywhere during his short stay, and to a gathering of thousands in front of the City Hall he expressed his gratitude for the hospitality extended him through the South.

Following the luncheon Mr. Harding was the guest at an informal reception held at the Elks home, where he was presented with a gold watch, the gift of the local lodge. His "little talk," promised the committee of Elks, developed into a fifteen-minute address before a crowd of several thousand gathered in front of the home.

The President-elect was in New Orleans about five hours. He arrived shortly before 11 a.m. from Point Isabel, Tex., and went aboard his steamer, the Parismina, shortly after 4 p.m. Soon afterward the Parismina started on the four-day run to Cristobal.

Any possibility that the vessel would touch at a Mexican port on her way down, in response to an invitation extended to Mr. Harding by the Mexican government, disappeared when the steamship company notified the President-elect that such a stop would carry the Parismina three days out of her course. She already had delayed her sailing one day to await the Presidential party, and as she carried a number of regular passengers, Mr. Harding would not approve a further change in plans.

Besides Mrs. Harding and his secretary, the President-elect is accompanied by a number of personal friends, including Senators Hale of Maine and Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. The party will remain in the Canal Zone about a week and will land on the return trip at Norfolk on December 4.

In his Chamber of Commerce address Mr. Harding said:

MR. HARDING'S ADDRESS.

"I believe the American people have come to realize that we must face momentous problems and must face them with resolute courage and practical wisdom and patriotic determination. If we are effective in solving our problems at home, we shall be better able to help solve those of the world as befits our part in modern civilization. There are sure to be reverses. There will be endless discouragements, but a confident America will face them with good courage. And we will win.

"The big thing for all America to realize now and always is the dignity of productive labor. No matter how humble the producers are the makers of the essentials of civilization and we must, each and all of us, accept and discharge our duty of producing for the world or

RADICALS SEIZE WORKS; GOVERNMENT ULTIMATUM ORDERS THEIR RETURN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Nov. 18.—The situation in the coal-mining area of the Mexican State of Coahuila, where striking miners have taken charge of seven mines, has become critical and Americans are arriving here from the affected area by train and automobile, having been advised to leave the district by Gov. Luis Gutierrez. He told the Americans he anticipated trouble in view of the government's determination to take charge of the situation.

Americans arriving here from the mining district are unable to explain the conditions in the affected area more than that they were told the situation is serious. The strikers are known as "unionistas," refugees said, and claim to have backing of one faction of the government. The striking miners not only have complete charge of seven mines in the State, but are well organized with pickets on duty and observe strict discipline, Americans arriving here today said.

SAVORS OF BOLSHEVISM.

One of the Americans who came here today from the mines did not regard the action of the strikers in seizing the mines as an instigation of organized labor, but characterized it as "savoring of Bolshevism."

The seven mines affected are located at Rosita, Cloets, Augilta, Tampacitas, Escondida, Las Peranas and Palau.

Reports that several persons have been killed in strike disorders could not be confirmed here.

The Mexican government today issued an ultimatum that the mines be in operation within three adys, it was reported today.

In event the demands are not met within the specified time, the government, it was said, would take over the properties and operate them. Reports that several persons have been killed in strike disorders, could not be confirmed here.

It is reported the Mexican government, in demanding resumption of operation of the mines, which have been idle since October 11, ordered the operators to pay the workers a wage increase of 20 per cent. The miners went on strike when their demand for 100 per cent advance was refused by the operators. Mexicans here, assert the American Federation of Labor is standing behind the strikers, who number about 10,000.

Great Britain has notified Premier Rhallis that it will refuse a credit guarantee for a new issue of bonds amounting to 400,000,000 drachmas.

Former officers and civil servants under King Constantine are being reinstated while the Venizelists are resigning office. It is expected that Gen. Nider will be the new commander of the army.

If the Balkan balance is upset it is anticipated here that the Serbs will seize Salonika.

Athens was quiet today except for scattering shots. Soldiers were walking up and down the principal streets joyfully firing their revolvers.

HAVANA, Nov. 18.—An airplane, carrying its captain, six passengers, pilot and mechanic, which left Key West at 4:30 p.m., for Havana, ordinarily a ninety minutes trip, has failed to arrive, and fears are entertained for its safety.

BRINDELL GRAFT BARED.

Union Leader Controlled Building Work; Fixed Prices, Gave Contracts.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—While the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust" was bearing further testimony today regarding alleged graft payments to Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades Council, the grand jury strengthened its indictment of yesterday and added another, charging the labor leader with extortion.

After pleading not guilty to the amended indictment alleging attempted extortion of $25,000, and the new charge, Brindell was granted his liberty in $100,000 bail.

The new indictment charged Brindell with extortion in that he received $500 from Louis J. Hohen, a house wrecker, on July 15, in connection with a demolition job.

While Brindell was pleading in the Criminal Courts Building the legislative committee heard witnesses testify to the payment of more than $18,000 to the labor leader for wrecking jobs and protection against labor troubles.

TELL OF PAYMENTS.

Albert Hirskowitz, one of the witnesses, declared he paid $25,000 to Brindell to prevent a rumored strike. George Atwell, one of the city's largest demolition contractors, said he had paid $17,120 for jobs and protection.

Nieman Klomposs, house wrecker, testified to giving Brindell $1000 for "getting me men," and arranged for protection from trouble of Frank Milton, another contractor, which he said cost $1500. He said he also paid $200 for privilege cards in order that his men could work.

J. H. Goldblatt, building and sheet metal contractor, testified he paid $2500 to Brindell's agents at the request of the labor leader to have a strike called off on an alteration job.

QUOTES WALKING DELEGATE.

When he said he threatened to fight the Brindell men, Goldblatt declared Mr. Pike, a walking delegate, said: "Go as far as you like. We have the District Attorney and police force with us."

"'Why, my dear boy,' he said," continued Goldblatt, "'Your amount is so small it cannot be seen. What are you barking about?' he said. 'We have about fifty on the list, ranging from $20,000 to $50,000, and nobody makes a howl like you did to give up. We are sorry we ever tackled you.'"

Brindell's source of power, Atwell testified, was in the Building Trades Employers' Association, and declared that the labor leader was in absolute control of all work and had awarded jobs and fixed prices.

"This manipulation and corruption added tremendously to the cost of building," he said.

The labor chief, the witness continued, had forced him to discharge old, experienced house wreckers and hire inexperienced men, who came on the job and said the work was too dirty, and made seats for themselves and sat down to do their work.

In one instance when he offered to pay $10,000 to wreck a building for salvage, Atwell said Brindell told him he could get him the job by paying only $5000. He said he took the job and gave the labor leader the other $5000.

The hearing of the graft testimony was in peaceful contrast to the unusual disorder that marked the proceedings earlier in the day when Mayor Hylan was on the witness stand.

Several times the hearing was brought to a halt while the Mayor and Samuel Untermyer, the committee's counsel, indulged in personalities, Mr. Untermyer charging the Mayor was attempting to sidetrack the investigation by cheapness and slurs.

"We have had nothing disorderly in these proceedings until the Mayor got on the stand," said Mr. Untermyer, asking that if the Mayor continued his tactics he be adjudged in contempt.

After declaring that he had had no personal relations with Brindell the Mayor was excused from the stand.

LIKE MERRY VILLAGERS.

Athens Resembles a Comic Opera.

Caroling Crowds Dance and Sing at Idea of King Coming to Throne.

Deposed Premier Leaves as He Sends Message Saying He Holds No Hate.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—Like a college town after a football game, Athens turned out to celebrate this afternoon, the first natural expression shown here in many weeks, if not months. The crowds, having managed to get some sleep after strenuous days, and refreshed by the sunny, calm weather, let themselves go. They organized a parade in University street, marched past the home of the fallen Venizelos, swept on to the King's palace, thence to the stadium and back again, overflowing into the side streets.

The crowds were good natured and made up of soldiers, young men and women. They were afoot, in carriages and automobiles, all carrying lithographs, paintings or photographs of former King Constantine and also of the former German Emperor.

DISORDER BEGINS.

The falling of darkness brought carousing and disorders, which were contributed to by soldiers coming in from Smyrna, where there have been troubles with the soldiery, who have been insisting on being permitted to come home.

Local foreigners express the opinion that greater Greece is dead by her own hand, and reduced overnight from a second-rate power to a comic opera condition. The Venizelists are packing up and scurrying to leave the capital and retire to the provinces, although there, and places like Corfu and Soloniki, the Royalists already have forcibly taken possession of affairs.

Former Premier Venizelos, before leaving Greece, issued a statement to the people saying that he bore them no hatred for voting against him. The message read:

Bands of civil guards went "I bear no bitterness on account of your vote, as I believe it would have been difficult for any other nation to have remained under arms two years after the armistice."

M. Venizelos's destination is Nice, where his son is to marry a wealthy young Greek woman.

The Patris and other Venizelist newspapers appeared today in mourning, saying that the country had been turned over to the Germans.

PREMIER TAKES OATH.

George Rhallis, the new Premier of Greece, with three members of his Cabinet, took the oath of office before Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent, today. M. Rhallis will hold the portfolio of Minister of Foreign Affairs. Immediately after he had qualified for office, M. Rhallis demanded the regent's resignation. The other members of the new Cabinet will take the oath before Queen Mother Olga.

Former Premier Venizelos left the city secretly today for Nice. The Greek yacht Narcissus was waiting for him and was escorted by three British war vessels. Prisoners in jails have been released.

OFFICIALS RESIGN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—M. Tamados, Minister resident and counselor, and Kimon Colles, first secretary of the Greek Legation here, announced today that they had submitted their resignations as a result of the Greek elections in which the Venizelos government was defeated.

Minister Tamados and Secretary Colles said they would leave early next month for Rome by way of France.

George D. Racopoul, second secretary of the legation, will act as Charge d'Affaires, pending appointment of a new Minister.

CONVERSATIONS HELD.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Conversations over the situation in Greece created by the defeat of Venizelos are in progress by France and Great Britain, it was said at the Foreign Office today. Neither country, it was explained, will act without the other.

No action will be taken, it is believed, until some definite indication has been received by the Greek government to the effect that Constantine will be asked to reascend the throne.

RAIN SWELLS RIVER; COLUSA COUNTY LEVEE BROKEN; STORM RAGES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—With one of the most torrential rains in years falling, throughout the northern part of the Sacramento Valley, and the Sacramento River and tributary streams rising with great rapidity, inundation of a large acreage of the lowlands of the Sacramento Valley was threatened tonight, according to reports received in Sacramento.

A report from Colusa early this evening said that the Sacramento River had already broken through one of the levees on the east side of that county, with the water pouring over a wide section of the adjacent farm lands.

The river at Colusa was rising rapidly and was expected to pass the twenty-foot mark before morning.

Weather Forecaster Taylor of Sacramento stated tonight that his information indicated that the river would rise above the flood level at Red Bluff some time tonight.

Reports from Redding indicated an almost record-breaking precipitation in Shasta county during the last twenty-four hours. The storm in that section was raging with unabated fury tonight. The downpour up the canyons north of Dunsmuir was reported to be even heavier.

Mr. Beals said the storm was the worst of the year and covered the widest extent of territory.

QUANDARY OVER WRANGEL

Failure Brings New Problem to Allies; Britain Favors Trade Agreement.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 18.—All Americans from the Red Cross relief stations at Sebastopol, Feodosia and Yalta have been sent across the Black Sea to Constantinople, according to telegrams received at the Paris headquarters of the American Red Cross today.

Capt. Kilpatrick of Uniontown, Ala., whose capture by the Bolsheviki was reported last week, is said to have been taken to Moscow.

MORAL AID TO WRANGEL.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—Representatives from eighteen Russian organizations, charity, professional and political, here have adopted the following resolutions:

"We regard Gen. Wrangel's struggle as continuing. We consider Wrangel, as before, the legitimate chief of the Russian government, which is uniting the Russian forces to fight Bolshevism in the name of justice, culture and statehood."

Several boatloads of refugees have been forbidden to land here, and are awaiting the decision of the Allies as to whether they will establish a refugee camp. The delay in doing this has already caused great suffering.

The Allies are confronted with a delicate question regarding the demobilization of the Wrangel troops. They do not know whether to let them fight the Reds on the Bessarabian and Ukrainian fronts, or to intern them, especially as they will have to do the latter if trade relations with Russia are opened.

PROBLEM OF FEEDING.

The problem of keeping alive 50,000 Russians, who escaped death at the hands of the Bolsheviki, the majority of whom were marked for execution, and who are now facing death from starvation and exposure, confronts the Allies and relief organizations here.

The Russians, particularly, are looking to the United States for assistance, owing to their ancient friendship, and because of America's independent stand in opposing Bolshevism.

DRAFT TRADE AGREEMENT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Premier Lloyd George stated in the House of Commons today that the Cabinet had decided that a draft of an agreement to carry out the July arrangements for trade with Russia should be prepared and he hoped it would be ready for submission to the Russian government in a few days.

The Premier said the agreement would not be entered into until Great Britain was satisfied that the undertaking given by the soviet government regarding the release of British prisoners was being carried out.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A wireless dispatch received from Moscow says: "Wrangel's destruction will make a great impression on all the western countries. There is information that England is carrying on agitation in the United States in favor of a renewal of trade relations with soviet Russia. Foreign newspapers more and more frequently state that the American government will not place obstacles in the way of its capitalists trading with soviet Russia.

"There is no doubt that the western countries will be forced to recognize the soviet government."

Negotiations on to Start Branches of League.

Expect All Western States to Join Movement.

Census Figures on Population Said to be Too Low.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—Negotiations are under way for organization of the Japanese exclusion leagues in all the Western States, and for a conference to be held in San Francisco when the organization is complete.

This announcement was made today by State Controller S. Chambers, chairman of the executive committee of the Japanese Exclusion League of California.

Chambers declared he has taken up the proposition of organizing leagues to deal with the Japanese question with the Governors, United States Senators, Congressmen and legislators of the States of Idaho, Montana, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oregon and Washington.

Replies thus far received, he said, are very encouraging.

The Japanese population figures for California, announced by the United States Census Bureau last Tuesday as being 70,190, are far short of the actual number of Japanese resident in the State, according to an article published today in the Bee over the signature of V. S. McClatchy, its publisher. The article quotes figures obtained by the Japanese associations in California, the State Board of Control and the State Board of Health in support of the writer's contention that the United States bureau is wrong.

The Bee declares that a census of the Japanese population in the State, taken this year by the various Japanese associations, places the figure at 78,000, which does not include 5000 California-born minors who are now in school in Japan, but who will return to this State.

The State Board of Control estimates the Japanese population at 87,000 and the registrar of vital statistics of the State Board of Health fixes the number at 96,000, although McClatchy says the registrar in a published signed article expresses his personal opinion "that the actual Japanese population is 109,000."

EXPRESS SYMPATHY.

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 18. A resolution of sympathy for the Japanese in California because of the attitude manifested toward them in the recent adoption of the alien land law by that State, was adopted in today's session of the forty-seventh annual meeting of the American Missionary Association. The resolution was proposed by the Rev. Dr. George L. Cady of New York, and declared the Japanese the victims of un-Christian propaganda."

TOKIO, Nov. 18.—A committee of Tokio journalists adopted a resolution here today demanding that a national protest be made against California legislation hostile to the Japanese. They decided to hold a mass protest meeting in Tokio, and also to amalgamate with the twenty scattered societies dealing with the emigration question.

their kitchen this morning, a Redding family moved out. The water was six inches above the rails at the depot here tonight. The station waiting-room was flooded.

All bridges, except some minor structures, were reported standing tonight. The river road from Redding to Middle Creek, four miles up from here, was under water. Rain continued unabated.

At Kennett, where the rain was torrential, this morning, the river was twelve feet and reported rising. Three inches fell there in half an hour, it was said, and a total of 7.84 inches fell in the past twenty-four hours.

Reports of exceptionally heavy rainfall were received from Canyon and Iron Mountain mine.

The most critical situation was said to be in the vicinity of Red Bluff, where the Sacramento River was 17 feet at last reports, and the flood stage is 23 feet. At Sacramento, where the flood stage is 29 feet, the river was 10.4 feet today and steadily rising, the bureau reported. The last reported gauge for the river at Colusa was 10.6; Oroville, 8.8, and Monroeville, 8.1. The flood stages at these points are 28, 25 and 20 feet, respectively. At Red Bluff, the river was reported to have risen thirteen feet in forty-eight hours.

HEAVY SNOWFALL.

There were but four inches of snow at the government weather station at Summit today, due to flood-like rains melting the heavy fall here, but in the higher Sierra reaches the snowfall was enormous, according to Weather Bureau indications.

The winds striking the coast ranged from forty-five to fifty miles in the whole storm area.

Precipitation for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 a.m. today was: Eureka, .48; Red Bluff, .90; Sacramento, .06; Chico, 1.35; Colusa, 1.50; Orland, .83; Oroville, .12; Paso Robles, .02; Rocklin, .15; Santa Rosa, 1.30; San Francisco, San Jose, trace.

of ministering to the needs of comfort or progress of mankind.

"Ours are millions of broad acres eager to respond to man's cultivating touch. We have an empire and millions more are awaiting reclamation. We have not half revealed our mines nor measured our water power. We are unmatched in genius and unexcelled in industry. We are progressive in education. We are free in religion and mean to stay free, and mean ever to be free in press especially.

"We have more than the beginning of an adequate transport system. We are awakened to the possibilities of inland waterways and tardily alert to the imperative need of a merchant marine to widen commerce, world influence and national safety.

"We have been talking about the new South for a score of years and more. I would like to acclaim a Southland with added good fortune and greater self-reliance through diversified agriculture, and I would like to see a Southland aflame with industry. This land of raw materials ought to manufacture and locate its factories by mine and farm and orchard. There will be no jealousy in the North because your greater glory will be glorious victory.

"Here we are today at one of the great gateways of Latin-America. Somehow, I feel that the western hemisphere is our special field of influence and trade. Commerce marks the highway of friendship as well as rivalry. Our trade routes by sea to the south ought to be as dependable as our railway routes at home, and there ought to be sufficient and reassuring comity and concord among Americans—south, central and north. Bind our friendship with the ties of trade and we shall make it indissoluble.

"Our great assurance at home lies in a virile, intelligent, resolute people in a land unravaged by war, at enmity with no people, envying none, coveting nothing, seeking no territory, striving for no glories which do not become a righteous nation. This republic cannot, will not fail, if each of us does his part.

TERMS OF DOLLARS.

"There has been a wild contemplation of earnings, whether in wages, or dividends, in terms of dollars rather than in terms of purchasing power. We must be more concerned with the substance of reward for activity than in this coin measurement. And our concerns must be in a dependable prosperity which is righteously shared. The tide of good fortune will ever flood and ebb, which is God's way of teaching us the changing tides. And greed must not expect to ride exclusive at the flood, and expect contentment to recede alone.

"No law can alter nature or change her varying moods. We haven't yet learned to combat destructive weather, and the law of supply and demand is eternal. But we may soften their rigors and minimize their penalties. We want fortune a common possession in America. We want the cotton grower of the South to have his becoming reward with the wool grower, and the wheat farmer of the North. We want your ports to send their cargoes under the American flag, to bear the messages of peace and good will to all the parts of the earth.

"There is no sectionalism in righteous American ambitions. It is this wonderful and incomparable United States of America which sets our hearts aglow with becoming aspirations and patriotic love—the America of the Constitution, free and confident of the morrow."

MEXICO MAY SEIZE MINES.

ing Mexican coal miners, who seized the mines in the Monclova district of Coahuila yesterday, have notified all Americans to leave the district, according to reports reaching the United States consular office at Nuevo Laredo today. No Americans have been victims of violence, the report said, but there is an exodus toward Eagle Pass.

A number of American refugees were reported to have arrived at the border, at Eagle Pass today. Those unable to leave the Monclova district were said to have gone to Sabinas, where a large force of Mexican Federal troops are garrisoned.

The striking miners have notified the operators that the workers will operate the mines hereafter, according to the reports. Mine managers were reported in conference with Luis Gutierrez, Governor of Coahuila, at Sabinas, today.

TROOPS PROMISED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 18.—Sufficient troops to assure protection for Coahuila coal miners, who desire to call off their prolonged strike and return to work, have been dispatched to that State upon orders from Provisional President De la Huerta.

Except for this statement, the daily bulletin issued from the Presidential office made no reference to the rumored disturbances in the State of Coahuila.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Seizure of coal mines in Coahuila, Mex., by striking miners, has served to increase the concern felt by American government officials, over the steady spread of radicalism in Mexico.

FARMERS' STRIKE URGED.

National Union Calls on Producers to Combat Falling Commodity Prices.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—An appeal for all farmers to uphold policies adopted by the annual convention of the National Farmers' Union here, was issued at the closing session tonight by Charles S. Barrett, president of the organization.

Specifically, the farmers were asked to support the movement for withholding farm products from the market until prices were again at a profit-paying level.

"Unless this movement is broadly supported," Mr. Barrett said, "it will have no effect. It is in the interest of farmers everywhere and should receive their active support."

The call went forward to secretaries of local branches of the organization, which represent producers of grain, cotton, wool and live stock, said to number 800,000.

The proposed strike was urged in retaliation for what the convention considered abnormal deflation in prices of farm products, through which it was asserted American farmers have been robbed of one billion dollars in reduced value of products, now on hand. All farmers were urged to hold this year's production from the markets until "profit-making levels" were restored.

LOWER PRODUCTION?

Reduction of production in the future was threatened in another resolution "unless the prices of our products are fairly readjusted."

A conference of representatives of all farmers' organizations of the country was called to meet in St. Louis, December 16, to consider the creation of a national farm marketing board. Concerning the St. Louis meeting to create a national farm marketing board, Charles S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., who was elected president of the union for the fifteenth consecutive time, said today:

"The purpose of the meeting is not to form or create a corner, but to find a reasonable, rational way to market our products. The urban population should welcome such a step, as it is the instability of the market that has caused inflated prices for them, and deflated prices for the producer."

Other resolutions adopted, officials said, included one urging strict enforcement of the immigration laws, and deportation of aliens, seeking to overthrow the government. Legislation for the recall of United States Senators and Representatives, also was urged.

SLUMP TOO GREAT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Advice to farmers to curtail production activities and wait for price adjustment, was given in statements made today by J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and C. W. Hunt, president of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation.

"Prices are frightfully low," Mr. Howard said. "All farm products have declined in price from 50 to 100 per cent, an average arrived at this week, approximately 72 per cent. When other commodities come down in proportion to our products, we will go ahead with production."

LABORITES DISCUSS NEEDS OF COUNTRY.

LEADERS ADMIT THAT WORLD NEEDS PRODUCTION, AFTER SECRET CONFERENCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — Economical needs of the country largely occupied the attention today of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which continued its discussion of future policies. The labor leaders were said to have recognized the part which the workers must play, but the progress they made, if any, toward formulation of a policy was not disclosed.

Labor is fully conscious that the world needs production, members of the council said after a long secret meeting. Labor leaders were declared to realize also that standards of life can improve only as production and consumption increase.

The attitude of those guiding labor organizations is said to be that this end cannot be reached without better methods in industry where, members of the council asserted, there still remains inefficiency in plant management as well as unprincipled scheming by certain groups of financiers.

Florence Crittenton Home Bazaar Success.

Several hundred dollars were taken in yesterday at the bazaar given at Florence Crittenton Home, 234 East Avenue 33. The bazaar was given by the directors of the home to raise money for bettering the condition of the inmates.

In addition to the booths where all kinds of handiwork made by the young women living there were sold, there was an exhibition of live babies—not for sale—which was very attractive. An interesting musical program was given by prominent local musicians. Mrs. Eugene Cohn, chairman of the Bazaar Committee, and Mrs. F. E. Shaw, chairman of the auxiliary, were in charge of the general arrangements.

Oil Production of State Shows Slight Increase.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Total daily production during October of 305,102 barrels of crude oil from all California fields, a new high mark, was reported here today by the Standard Oil Company of California. The total was announced as a slight increase over the September output.

October shipments of crude oil were in excess of production by almost 20,000 barrels daily, the report said, but were apparently above normal. Stocks were decreased 613,631 barrels during the month.

The forty-seven wells completed during October yielded an initial daily production of 12,395 barrels.

YOUNG BANDIT CONFESSES

Boy Surrenders and Tries to Shield Brother in Gigantic Mail Robbery.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) Nov. 18.—Orville Phillips, ... younger brother of Merl Phillips, has surrendered to the ... authorities and has confessed to having participated in the ... half-million-dollar robbery of fast mail train No. 8 on the Burlington road here Saturday night.

Orville's confession is a dramatic incident in the story of the crime. His surrender was made, he says, when he discovered that his brother, Merl was perjuring himself in an effort to save him. Orville Phillips says that Merl had nothing to do with actual robbery, and, in fact, did all that he could to persuade the other boys from carrying out the crime.

Orville's confession resulted in the finding of five more stolen registered mail sacks, but all were empty. The boy says the contents were burned, and that a third man, whose name he refuses to tell, got the other four missing sacks. Four sacks were found under the ice in a lake, and one was found in an outhouse in a local park.

In a supplemental confession, said to have been made to government men by Fred E. Poffenberger, the 19-year-old youth under arrest is understood to have changed his statement made yesterday to the effect that he did not know what became of the contents of the sack, which, he said, he ripped open, and which is understood to have contained about $750,000 in government bonds. He now says that the contents of the bag were burned.

Orville Phillips declares the third man who helped rob the car was outside in the automobile when he and Poffenberger threw out the sacks, but no amount of grilling on the part of the officials so far has brought out the identity of this man or what became of him.

Rub Elbows At Home With Gabrilowitsch —The Angelus Artrio

Of the hundreds of thousands who have sat spellbound and listened to Gabrilowitsch, poet of the piano, who have marveled as he played at the bewildering beauty of his art, not one in a thousand has had the keen delight of hearing him, privately, intimately, at home.

The spirit of Chopin, it has been said, lives again in the heart of the great Russian. Poetic temperament, masterly conception, gentleness of character, breadth of intellect and a technical equipment bewilderingly perfect—all have conspired to make his place among the few really great pianists enviably serene and secure.

For the Angelus Reproducing Piano, Gabrilowitsch has recorded some of his most charming compositions and a number of those of the older masters. At home with Gabrilowitsch and the Angelus—what more could be desired?

It is in performance that the Angelus astounds. Every shading, every colorful nuance, every crescendo or decrescendo, every intonation of melody or counter melody is reproduced in tempo tone and volume precisely as played by the artist who recorded it.

If for no other reason than to know at first hand the wonders of this modern miracle, how it brings to every home the very finest efforts of the artists you have always longed to hear and know, you should hear the Angelus. A privilege had only at our stores.

Vitamines

VITAMINES are mysterious atoms which Science has recently proven exist in certain foods as the life-giving force that builds ruddy health.

The Vitamine is so tiny that the strongest miscroscope cannot see it. It is one of the unseen forces of Nature known only by results.

Vitamines promote rapid, healthful growth in children. They make rosy cheeks and sturdy bodies. They restore wasted tissues.

Vitamines are the most necessary of all nourishing substances. Without them the other nutritious food elements cannot do their work. People who do not get a sufficient amount of vitamines are weak, without vitality to resist disease.

Give your children green vegetables, fresh fruit, milk and butter. These contain Vitamines. Give them plenty of bread, too—HOLSUM Bread, because every slice of HOLSUM provides growth-giving Vitamines.

This is not true of all breads. You may use the best materials and yet destroy their precious Vitamines through lack of scientific baking knowledge.

Science is Master in the HOLSUM Bakery and in HOLSUM Bread the rich, pure ingredients are blended and baked in such a way that all of the life-giving Vitamines are retained.

TANK STEAMERS BADLY MANAGED

Inefficient Direction Cost $3,000,000 Monthly.

Failure Emphasized by Witness at Investigation.

Many Shipping Board Vessels Tied Up in Ports.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Failure of the tank steamer department of the United States Shipping Board to utilize its fleet of bulk oil carriers for the needs of Shipping Board vessels caused a loss to the government of $3,000,000 in one month. Martin J. Gillen testified today before the Walsh Congressional committee inquiring into the Shipping Board transactions. Gillen was special assistant to former Chairman John Barton Payne last May when, he said, the alleged dereliction occurred.

The tank steamer department had fifty-four vessels, he added. Of these twenty were in the hands of private operators. It was discovered on May 26, last, that fifty-four vessels were tied up at southern ports for lack of fuel oil, and in addition 40 per cent of the operators were buying oil on the open market for $4 to $6 a barrel. At the same time, he added, "60 per cent of the oil we were carrying in our ships was furnished at $2.07 a barrel."

DISCLOSED BY COMPLAINTS.

Gillen further testified that this condition of affairs was disclosed through complaints of two operators. Capt. Paul Foley was then head of the tank steamer department, he said, and "it was ascertained he did not know that ships were compelled to buy oil at a higher price than could have been furnished by the board." Capt. Foley, he added, was later relieved of his duties as head of the tank steamer department.

In response to a question by Congressman Kelley, Gillen said Foley was now director of operation of the board's entire fleet of more than 1100 ships, including the tankers.

CHARTERED AT LOSS.

He added that last May this country, as well as the entire world, was short of tankers. On the open market such ships were being chartered at from $15 to $22 a deadweight ton, he said. The Shipping Board was leasing its tankers, he added, to private companies at from $6.15 to $6.50 a ton.

The tankers were described as the only floating property this government then owned, on which a profit could have been made.

The witness declared no one in the entire division of operations knew that such a large percentage of our ships were buying oil in the open market at advanced prices, because the operating division did not know what one of its chief departments was doing.

Concluding his two days' testimony relating mainly to the alleged lack of an accounting system by the board prior to the advent of Judge Payne, Mr. Gillen outlined, at the request of the committee, what he termed recommendations as to a constructive program.

He said that the board had too many operators of its ships who created not only an unnecessary overhead expense, but who caused losses by bidding against each other for Shipping board business. He said the present 176 operators should to be cut to not more than fifty.

He asserted the new shipping board should be relieved of all burdens of past transactions, of the problem of sales and of the liquidation of old accounts. To do this, he explained, Congress should create a small liquidating corporation made up of five big business men, the corporation to be non-political in its makeup.

CHANGE IN ORGANIZATION.

The shipping board should then be organized that each of the six members, aside from the chairman, should have a definite line of work for which he would be responsible, such as the problems of docks and docking, allocations, repairs and similar matters. The main idea in his suggestion, he said, was to enable the board now appointed to go ahead and function for the future.

The witness also declared he was in favor of government operation of ships.

"It is my hope that of our troubles we will get legislation that will be a protection to us if ever we are called upon to go to war," he said. The witness expressed the opinion that we will have a strong merchant marine "when we have a shipping board without ships to operate, the board supported by legislation that will enable our ships to meet foreign competition and which will check industries which are now sucking the life blood out of the industry."

Of $208,241,709 in Shipping Board claims against the Army, only $30,000,000 had been collected up to last September, Mr. J. Gillen testified.

HITS ARMY OFFICERS.

Brig.-Gen. Frank T. Hines, former director of transportation for the Army, seemed to take special delight in blocking efforts to collect Shipping Board money from the War Department, Mr. Gillen said.

Referring to the wooden ship construction program of the board, Mr. Gillen testified that these contractors were induced to accept business on assurances that there would be three ships built a year on each ways.

WHILE our foreign trade is not yet developed to use it, the tonnage capacity of our merchant fleet is sufficient to handle the entire export and import business of this country.—[Advertisement.]

Mailed! 700 Security Lists in Twenty Minutes

Black & Jones were bond brokers of the progressive sort and naturally they wanted to sell just a little better than their competitors. They had pronounced ideas about "service" to their customers, the greatest of which was the prompt mailing of security lists and literature on new issues.

After taking up its share in a bond issue the firm embarked on a siege with the printers in an effort to get out a prospectus for their clientele within a reasonable period. Because the printer was swamped with earlier orders it often entailed a wait of a day or more. The result was that prospectuses were generally late in being mailed.

Then one day Jones had an idea. He told his partner that in future security lists and in fact all printed literature would be in the mail in less than an hour's time.

By a little examination on the side he had discovered that the very sort of speed work they required could be handled by the Neostyle. He bought one in short order and from the start it was a success.

The first day's bulletin was out in twenty minutes after the list had been compiled.

Simply operated by one of the office stenographers from a typewritten master sheet, their lists are neatly turned out at the rate of five thousand beautifully printed duplicates an hour.

H. S. Crocker Company makes a study of fitting its modern office devices to just such individual requirements. The problem is not always the same, but the solution is invariably practical and direct.

H. S. Crocker Company is sincerely interested in the solution of office problems, and it aims to be as resourceful in its service as it is in its range of equipment.

STATE EXPENSES ARE INCREASING

Need $20,000,000 More This Year, Says Budget Board.

Revenues Will Total Approximately $49,945,921.52.

Amount Will Fall Far Short of the Sum Needed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—State revenues for the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years to accrue from taxes levied by the State Board of Equalization will total approximately $49,945,921.52.

This is according to an official estimate made today by M. D. Lack, secretary of the board to the State Budget Board. The receipts for the present biennium totaled $41,881,949.88.

While the revenues for the next two years show an increase of $8,063,971.64 over the last biennium, it is declared the amount will fall far short of the total that will be required if the appropriations of the 1921 Legislature reach the figure estimated.

LEGISLATIVE DEMANDS.

According to State Controller Chambers, a member of the Budget Board, the appropriations demanded of the 1921 Legislature will exceed the total appropriations of the 1919 session by approximately $20,000,000.

The last budget totaled in round numbers $47,000,000, said Chambers, and the Legislature passed, in addition, bills amounting to $15,000,000 approximately. The Governor, he said, signed measures appropriating approximately $10,000,000.

"It is probable," continued Chambers, "that the next budget will be compelled to recommend expenditures exceeding those of the 1919 budget by from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, to which must be added such individual appropriation bills by Legislators as will be approved by the Governor."

The estimate of revenues submitted to the Budget Board by Lack is as follows:

BOARD ESTIMATES.

Railroads, including street railways, $23,745,578.64.

Gas and electric companies, $9,340,946.36.

Telephone and telegraph companies, $2,355,094.64.

Car companies, $361,064.28.

Express companies, $176,392.48.

Insurance companies, $3,975,960.48.

Banks, $5,455,274.64.

General franchises, $4,043,610.00.

Total, $49,945,921.52.

HAD NO NICKEL, SO FACTORY IS BURNED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Because none of the employees of a big furniture repair establishment on the West Side had a nickel in change for a telephone call, fire yesterday destroyed the three-story building housing the plant and endangered the lives of a score of occupants of the building.

Lack of a nickel caused a delay of fifteen minutes in notifying the department. The damage was estimated at $15,000.

INDIAN BUREAU IS SCORED BY RED MEN.

DECLARE CONTINUATION OF OFFICE SPELLS MISERY, AND APPREHENSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—The government was arraigned for its alleged mistreatment of Indians in resolutions adopted today in the resolutions committee of the Society for American Indians, in convention here.

The resolutions urged that Indians be placed under the laws of their respective States and thereby give them the opportunity to follow their peaceful pursuits unhampered and unrestricted by the most malignant and un-American system of supervision of the Indian Bureau.

The resolutions state that the continuation of the Indian Office spells for the American Indian misery, misrule and cruel oppression, and that a calm, unbiased and nonpartisan survey of actual conditions on the reservations under the present government policy and administration results in disclosures and revelations of the most shocking nature, full of pathos, tragedy, injustice and inhumanity.

IMMIGRATION SERVICE SOON TO BE IMPROVED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Representative Johnson of the House Committee on Immigration today completed that body's investigation of conditions at Ellis Island and tonight followed other members of the committee to Washington, where he said a meeting would be held immediately to frame legislation for improvement of the immigration service.

Mr. Johnson spent the day in conference with Commissioner Wallis and other officials. He said he was obtaining information from records of cases in which aliens had been admitted under bond by the Secretary of Labor after they had been ordered excluded by special boards of inquiry.

STUDENTS SUSPENDED FOR TICKET SCALPING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—E. G. Frost, junior, from Los Angeles, and D. N. Riddell, sophomore, from San Francisco, were suspended from Stanford University today for a period of one week, and were placed on probation for the remainder of the year, following the receipt of information by the university authorities that they offered a $3 ticket for Saturday's football game between Stanford and California universities for sale at $12.50.

It was announced that they would not be permitted to attend future games between the universities.

Accused of Killing Stockman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, Nov. 18.—Leo S. Ferris has been arrested at Bradley, charged with having killed William Abernathy, a well known cattleman of Indian Valley. Details are lacking.

CAPITAL DENIES A SECRET PACT.

Brand Mexican News Report as False and Foolish.

Paper Alleged Entente Agreed to Exploit Mexico.

Washington Believes Treaty German War Document.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Publication in Mexico City today of what purported to be the text of a treaty between the United States, Great Britain and France, signed in 1917 and dealing with certain rights claimed by these countries in Mexico, brought prompt official denial from the State Department of the existence of any such pact.

Officials at the department were inclined to believe the published text was that of a false treaty prepared during the war by Germany for propaganda purposes in Mexico. There had been, they said, previous indications of the circulation of this false document.

CLAUSE IS FOOLISH.

The statement that one clause of the alleged treaty provided for certain measures to meet possible Japanese hostility was noted particularly and characterized at the department as beng as foolish as it was false.

On the other main subject dealt with in the spurious pact, continuation of the flow of oil from Mexican wells owned by nationals of the three powers, it was regarded as conceivable that some sort of informal understanding might have been reached by the three governments, necessitated by the exigencies of war. It was said officially, however, that nothing of the kind had been reduced to writing.

KNEW IT WAS FALSE.

It was recalled in this connection that Mexican fuel oil was essential to British naval operations during the war.

The suggestion that a written agreement existed was made last month in the Mexico City press, a statement to that effect being attributed to Hilario Medina, acting Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Carranza Cabinet. It was promptly denied by Cutberto Hidalgo, holding a similar post under the present provisional government, and he declared Medina had brought about publication of a statement he knew to be false for the purpose of embarrassing friendly relations between the provisional government and the United States.

EXAMINE NINETY TO SECURE MARSH JURY.

MOTHER OF SLAIN MAN WEEPS IN COURT; POSTHUMOUS CHILD EXPECTED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 18.—The jury in the Marsh murder trial was completed this afternoon about 4 o'clock, after ninety veniremen had been examined. The jurors in the case are Robertine Righetti, I. L. Wender, Irving C. Day, Gustav Renkert, Thomas A. Lawson, Hans Iversan, Walter Lewis, Jr., James Lucherse, E. M. Merrifield, F. L. Butts, F. W. Keller and L. P. Hourihan.

Mrs. J. Terra, the elderly mother of Louis Terra, for whose murder Jacob R. Marsh is being tried, for the second time, was in the courtroom today. With her, were her daughter and her daughter-in-law, and two of their sons. The women were dressed in deep mourning.

Twice during the day's proceedings the aged mother of the slain man wept; once when the shooting was described by the prosecuting attorney, Edward Cunha, and once when the bloody clothing worn by her son on the day he was shot, was identified by Charles A. Skeen, the Paso Robles undertaker.

The first witness called was Dr. A. H. Wilmar of Paso Robles, who performed the autopsy. Dr. Wilmar described the course of the bullet.

Testimony of A. F. Parsons, county surveyor, concerned a plat of the Marsh home in Paso Robles, which he had prepared for use in the trial.

It developed in the course of the day's proceedings that in addition to the two little children left by Terra, a posthumous child is expected soon.

NOW WORK TO SETTLE MINERS' DIFFERENCES.

MINING CONGRESS ALSO ELECTS SAN FRANCISCO MAN PRESIDENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, Nov. 18.—An attempt will be made to peaceably settle differences between miners and the Minerals Separation, North American Corporation, holder of patents covering the flotation process of ore separation, it was decided at today's session of the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining Congress here.

The board of directors of the congress authorized appointment of a committee to meet with Minerals separation officials, to attempt an amicable settlement.

W. J. Loring of San Francisco was elected president of the congress by the directors, this afternoon.

WAR SAVINGS STAMP BUYERS IN TROUBLE.

OFFICERS OF SAN FRANCISCO BOND COMPANY ARRESTED ON CHARGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Jacob Coplin and Walter Kohn, officials of the Union Bond Company, a concern alleged by secret service agents to have reaped large profits through the purchase of War Saving certificates at a discount from their holders, were arrested today on Federal warrants charging alteration and mutilation of government securities.

They were released on $1000 bond each. Charles A. Adams, a third member of the concern, was being sought tonight by government agents.

The warrants were sworn to by Stephen S. Connell, chief of the secret service bureau here, on information furnished by Clovis A. Farnsworth, associate director of the government savings organization here.

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream.—[Advertisement.

We installed this big water-softening plant at a big cost, to dye your clothes the way you WANT them dyed—the way we want you to HAVE them done. It is just a part of our service—it marks the difference between ordinary "good enough" methods of dyeing clothes and the City Dye Works method. We could easily enough have saved the thousands of dollars this plant cost us, if we had been satisfied to turn out ordinary work. We feel that OUR satisfaction and the satisfaction of OUR CUSTOMERS is worth the money it cost.

2 BIG Reasons why City Dye Works DYEING is Superior!

Perfect dyeing results depend first upon pure, soft water—second on perfect dyestuffs.

Through our connection with the biggest manufacturers of dyestuffs in the world, we are able to obtain perfect dyes. Every bit of dyestuff used by us in our famous "Jenkins Process" IS perfect.

In order to obtain absolutely soft water, we have been compelled to install this big water softening plant, at a great expense. The average run of Los Angeles City water is so hard that perfect dyeing results are impossible when it is used. The water that comes out of this plant is as pure and soft as rain water—even perfect drinking water.

There are many other reasons that combine to make this the most perfect dyeing service that experience, ingenuity and the highest standards of workmanship can produce.

IRISH PROBLEM QUIZ IS BEGUN.

Committee of One Hundred Opens Hearings.

Erin Councilman and Priests Give Evidence.

Inquiry to be "Impartial," Says Chairman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Eyewitnesses reports of disturbances in Ireland connected with the movement for Irish independence were given today at the open hearings of the Commission of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question.

Four witnesses, including Dennis Morgan, chairman of the Town Council of Thurles, Ireland, and three Americans who visited Ireland recently—John F. Martin, Green Bay, (Wis.,) Father Michael English, Whitehall, (Mont.) and Father James H. Cotter, Ironton, (O.)—were heard by the commission. All expressed sympathy for the Irish independence movement and told of violent events they had seen. They agreed that civil processes, except of the provisional Irish republic, were virtually at an end under the rule of the British military forces.

TELLS OF "MURDERS."

Mr. Morgan said his home was riddled with bullets prior to his arrest and deportation to England without any definite charges being preferred against him. With 200 other Irish republican leaders, he said, he went on a hunger strike until they were released. He also told of "murders" of Irish citizens.

Father English asserted that British soldiers had confiscated his papers. The military authorities derided his protests that he was an American citizen, he said.

Father Cotter, a Catholic editor, told of the killing of a Galway civilian by a British soldier without cause, he said. The soldier, he said, was seized by another civilian, and reprisals against the town followed an hour later. "Soldiers shot up the streets for several hours," he said. The aged priest added that he lay for an hour and a half under a window ledge of his hotel to escape bullets.

Father Cotter and Mr. Martin, a Knights of Columbus official, stated that sentiment in Ireland as they found it was virtually unanimous for independence.

"Sympathies of everyone I met, Catholic and Protestant, were for the republicans," said Father Cotter.

All witnesses said that civil court procedure was suspended in Ireland, Coroners' inquests prohibited by the British government, and that the only authority exercised, except for the British military forces, was that of the Irish republicans.

In the examination of Mr. Morgan, Frank P. Walsh and Dudley Field Malone, counsel for the commission for Irish independence, participated, but Frederic C. Howe, chairman, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, and other members of the investigating commission questioned the American witnesses. It was made clear by Senator Walsh, that all of the witnesses were summoned by the commission, which pays their expenses, without relation to any other organization in the country.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Howe said the commission was to conduct an "impartial inquiry" into all the facts, and later send a committee to Ireland for further inquiry.

The hearings here are expected to continue for several weeks. Tomorrow John Deerham, a republican leader of Balbriggan, Ireland, will be heard, together with other American visitors to Ireland, including Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hackett of New York; Mrs. William King of Ironton, O., and Paul J. Furnas of New York.

THREE ARE SLAIN.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Three men were lying dead today in the Cork mortuary, while two others were badly wounded in hospitals, as a result of several attacks last night on individual houses by armed men, following the killing of Sergt. BAD BUSINESS; MAY GET TO BE CUSTOM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Running into a girl on Fifth avenue, New York City, where hundreds of fair beauties daily stroll to be admired, may be nothing to the ordinary blase Manhattanite, but literally running into the said girl in a high-powered automobile and then leading her right up to the altar—that's a different story.

Such was the experience of Robert R. Reynolds, president of a local gas corporation. He may say that he ran right into Mlle. Denise d'Arcy on the avenue, and, instead of landing up in traffic court or being sued for damages, ended up before the altar with the fair victim of the accident.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

SERIOUSNESS OF HAZING DENIED.

Superintendent of the Naval Academy Makes Statement.

Confined Mainly to Trivial Offenses, Says Admiral.

Asserts Three Midshipmen Resigned Since October 1.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Nov. 18.—Hazing is not nearly as "serious at the Naval Academy as it has been repsented to be," Read-Admiral A. H. Scales, superintendent, told newspaper correspondents in conference with him today.

The admiral said that his attitude all along had been to bring about a complete extermination of the time-honored objectionable practices of hazing and that especially during the last few weeks his attention has been in that direction.

"Barring names," said Admiral Scales, "and matters of department administration, I shall be very glad to relate the complete history of the hazing incidents. For two reasons I have been reticent in giving statements to the press; first, because I did not wish to appear to be defending myself, and, second, because I did not desire to seem to attack the midshipmen."

Most of the hazing, he said, could well be called trivial offenses in themselves, but when they are practiced in a small way by a large number of midshipmen the composite hazing has an effect that the average youth cannot stand.

"Since October 1 three midshipmen have offered their resignations, unquestionably on account of hazing," he asserted. "One admitted that he had been hazed after I had questioned him closely as the result of information which came to me from the outside."

Administration authorities today entered flat denial to reports that the order providing for the segregation of the plebes from the upper class midshipmen, to prevent hazing, had in any way been modified and also the story to the effect that sixty or more of the students would be denied the privilege of attending the Army-Navy football game November 27 because of hazing incidents and particularly that part alleged to have been played by them in the uprising wherein a large quantity of crockery was destroyed.

"There is not more than eight or ten students restricted to the extent that they will not be allowed to witness the game," Admiral Scales stated. "Those who are doing penance," he said, "are in no way connected with hazing, but for smoking and other minor infractions of the regulations."

VANDERLIP TO FACE SCOTLAND YARD QUIZ.

AMERICAN TO BE CLOSELY QUESTIONED ON ARRIVAL IN LONDON.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The American Embassy here was notified today that Washington D. Vanderlip, California oil and mining engineer, who recently was in Moscow, will be closely questioned by the intelligence department of Scotland Yard on his arrival in London, if the present plans of the police are carried out.

The interrogation will not necessarily be made with the view of taking action against Mr. Vanderlip's presence in England, it was said, but with the intention of ascertaining exactly what his activities had been in Russia in view of the many conflicting reports published in London. Such interrogation, it was pointed out, would be in conformity with the recently adopted attitude of the British government of discouraging travel between Russia and England.

Mr. Vanderlip was in Stockholm up to a few days ago. He recently returned from Moscow and gave out a statement asserting that he had secured a concession for 400,000 square miles of land in Siberia for a syndicate of Americans.

PASTRY-EATING HOSS CAUSES OWNER WORRY

VICTIM OF DOUGHNUT HABIT, PRINCE CHASES BAKERY WAGONS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—One day last summer the woman who lives next door to J. A. Pickens, agent for the American Railway Express Company at Waukegan, left a pan of doughnuts on her kitchen window sill to cool. Prince, the Pickens horse, sampled the doughnuts and was lost.

Since that, Pickens hasn't had a good night's rest. Though he buys the choicest hay and oats on the market, Prince can't be induced to eat anything but pastry.

Matters reached a climax the other day when Prince, who was hitched back of a bakery wagon, discovered a bountiful supply of bread and cakes inside. Now he insists on chasing every bakery wagon he sees, until bakers are frantic, traffic cops sore and Pickens thin from worry.

PLAN TO TAKE OVER STATE RICE MILLS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—Announcement that a plan has been practically completed for the Pacific Rice Growers' Association, to take over all the rice mills of the State to provide for the immediate cleaning of this year's crop and also to aid the association to dispose of the product through its own central agency was made today by J. H. Stephens, president of the association.

After the rice is cleaned, Stephens said, it will be sold through a central agency to be established either in Sacramento or San Francisco.

ORANGE, LEMON, WALNUT GROVES—For Sale and Exchange.

For Sale.

FOR SALE— THREE LA VERNE ORANGE GROVES.

PROSPECTIVE ORANGE GROVE BUYERS, BUY ORANGE GROVES NOW. At present orange grove prices, if you expect the crop included, you must soon get busy. The Navel crop is now rapidly coloring and maturing, and orange grove prices are bound to be higher shortly. At this particular time in the orange crop season, orange grove prices invariably tend upward. As regards immunity from damaging frosts, the La Verne Citrus District is one of the safest and best in Southern California. Good income orange groves in the La Verne section sell at from $3000 to $5000 the acre. I here offer for quick sale three recently listed, recently inspected, orange groves. I consider these properties excellent value. No buildings on either property, but each grove is finely located, with ideal home building site.

No. 1: 10 Acres—2-3 Valencias, 1-3 Navels, 12 years old, fine large trees, in absolutely first-class condition. A high-class orange grove, heavily fertilized and fumigated. Excellent soil and water right. Crop very heavy, estimate 7000 boxes. On a conservative estimate this crop should bring at least $10,000. Price, including crop, $36,000. Terms, cash, $21,000—no less—remainder $15,000, three years' time.

No. 2: 10 Acres—3-4 Valencias, 1-4 Navels, 10 years old. Recently fertilized, and now being fumigated. Water right appurtenant valued at $3000. Owing to failure to fumigate this grove last winter for the eradication of scale, the crop now on the trees is very light, possibly 1000 field boxes. With a full normal crop this grove should readily sell for $30,000. The owner now requires money to complete payment on a recent investment and has cut the price to $22,000. No less money will buy it. Buyer can assume present loan mortgage of $9500. The remainder, $12,500, must be cash. The La Verne Orange Packing House will certify that the returns from this grove for the past four seasons total $20,729.82. This is certainly a big record for a ten-acre orange grove only ten years old. Here is the La Verne Packing House record: 1916-17, $5751.65; 1917-18, $6001.65; 1918-19, $6386.89; 1919-20, $4839.63. Total for the past four seasons, $20,729.82, or an annual average of $5182.45.

No. 3: 10¼ Acres—9-year Navels. Fairly good crop, about 3000 boxes, well fertilized, fumigated, good condition. Price $22,000. $12,000 can be paid in installments of $1000 or more annually.

ORANGE, LEMON, WALNUT GROVES—For Sale and Exchange.

For Sale.

FOR SALE—

15 acres, 5 acres 5-year budded Walnuts now commencing to bear nicely, 10 acres solid to 9-year-old Valencia Oranges. Fine large trees. Soil and climatic conditions unexcelled. No heaters used. I've been continually selling orange groves for the past seventeen years, and I've seen very heavy orange crops, but if there is a ten-acre orange grove, anywhere, in better producing condition than this orange grove, or with a heavier crop of fruit for the age of the trees than this grove now has, I would like to see it. Considerable propping of the limbs will be required later to prevent them breaking with the heavy load of fruit. When this grove is a few years older, with proper care of the grove, the income therefrom will be prodigious. Finely located on prominent paved boulevard. Good electric pumping plant on the property, belonging thereto, lifting by government test 50 inches of water. Good five-room plastered house, two large barns. Tractor and ranch tools included. The owner of this choice property has present business plans in view, and for this reason he has recently placed the property in my hands for sale at a price of $45,000. To the right party good terms on the major portion of the purchase price will be given. Property clear. Exclusive sale.

GAS HEATER NEARLY ENDS FIVE LIVES.

Tailor's Children Overcome by Fumes; Are Resuscitated With Difficulty.

The five small children of Jacob Geller, a tailor, were almost asphyxiated by gas fumes from an unvented water heater in the Geller home, at 253 East Forty-seventh street last night. Only the timely arrival of Patrolmen Hamlin, Farrant and Lytell, from University Police Station, and the prompt application of artificial respiration under the direction of Lieut. Hagenbaugh, saved their lives. They were later taken to the Receiving Hospital and put to bed for further observation. Late last night they all seemed to have recovered.

Mrs. Geller left the house to go to the corner grocery, leaving the children alone. They are Milton, aged 11; Isadore, 13; Harold, 9; Eleanor, 7, and Phyllis, 5. One of the children lit the water heater preparatory to taking a bath. The rest of the children were sleeping in a room adjoining the kitchen, where the heater was. The child who was about to take a bath noticed that the air was suffocating him and went to the telephone to summon his father, who was working at his place of business, downtown. He managed to tell his parent that he was choking, and then fell to the floor, unconscious. Mr. Geller rushed home in an automobile. He found all of his children stupefied by the fumes. Mrs. Geller returned from the store a few minutes later, and was nearly overcome by the shock.

FRUIT COMPANY'S HEAD SURRENDERS.

FORTY THOUSAND BAIL FROM MAN ACCUSED OF FAILING TO DELIVER GRAPES.

After deputy sheriffs had searched for several days for R. E. Chapman, head of the Chapman Fruit Company, Seventh and Alameda streets, he yesterday surrendered himself in Judge Crail's court. He is accused in a grand jury indictment of defrauding F. J. McCann out of $35,000 in a deal involving a delivery of grapes on October 15.

Chapman first gave himself up to Deputy Sheriffs Lips and Anderson and was held while his attorney arranged for bail, which was fixed at $50,000. This was reduced by Judge Crail to $40,000 and Chapman was released to the custody of the deputies while he arranged to get the bonds.

He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for January 24. He is accused of accepting $35,000 from Mr. McCann for a large quantity of grapes which he failed to deliver.

SH! MAYOR IS AFTER CUSSERS.

Report of Torrid Expletives on Golf Links is Cause.

Tries Municipal Sherlocking, With Conaway as Aide.

Make-up is Wrong, so Water Haul is the Result.

"They swear?" exclaimed Mayor Snyder, horror-struck.

"Indeed they do," said Mrs. Seafie Sloan-Orcutt, president of the Board of Park Commissioners.

"Golfers cussing? I never heard of such a thing and I have golfed for years," repeated the Mayor, incredulously.

"Well," said Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, "at least the greens committee at Griffith Park so reports to the park board, and I am wondering what we are going to do about it."

"I'll attend to that," said the Mayor in a voice of thunder.

"Call Councilman Conaway; tell him to bring his mashie, his niblick, his putter and his driver and meet me at Griffith Park at 3 this very

Thursday afternoon, and we'll find out about this cussing on our municipal golf links.'

"Can't I go along disguised as a tree or something?" said Secretary Ivan St. John. "I am an expert on cussing, having had experience in politics among the also-rans."

"You know nothing about golf cussers, Ike," said the Mayor. "Tend to your knitting. I am off to do some high-class, municipal Sherlocking."

Reporters disguised as taxpayers followed the Mayor and the Councilman to Griffith Park and lurked about as the officials, their errand thoroughly unsuspected except by the ground keepers, the caddies and the players, drove off for their afternoon of golf, keeping their ears attuned all the while for stray cuss words in any language.

First hole. Conaway made it in six. The Mayor got there in three. Not a cuss word heard. One golfer in a last year's straw hat was heard to exclaim, "Oh, scissors!" as he broke a club and lost three $1.50 balls.

Second hole. Not a cuss. Third hole. Not a cuss. Two golfers were heard discussing the proper method of brewing tea, rather loudly, but not boisterously.

Fourth, fifth and sixth holes. Zero.

"Conaway," said the Mayor. "There is dirty work going on here. Some one has tipped our hand.

"Mayor, you may be right at that. Too much publicity. We must come again and wear false mustaches."

Exit both, discussing the relative merits of changing their make-ups or putting dictagraphs in the trees.

RESIDENT OF CITY SINCE 'FIFTY-ONE.

Woman, Perhaps Earliest Living Los Angeles Pioneer, Celebrates Birthday.

Mrs. Esiquia de Villa, perhaps the earliest living resident of Los Angeles, was the guest of her sons and daughters last night at her home, 1922 East ninth street, in honor of her seventy-sixth birthday. A large number of friends attended the party.

Mrs. De Villa came to Los Angeles sixty-nine years ago. Her parents lived in a small house near the old Plaza Church when there was nothing there but the church, an inn and one or two dwellings. Later, she married Miguel de Villa and moved to an adobe house on Spring street, where the Western Union Telegraph Company's office is now. Five children were born there. Then they moved to Los Angeles and Fifth streets, where the union stage depot is, and twenty-seven years ago Mrs. De Villa moved to her present residence.

COSTLY FUNERAL BANNED IN WILL

Brig.-Gen. Gordon Said Oldest Suit Must be Used.

Quoted Chinese Quip Against Feast to the Dead.

Sioux Fighter, Writer, Lawyer, Here for Thirty Years.

"I agree with the Chinese philosopher, 'Better give a cup of water to the living than a feast to the dead,'" said Hanford Lennox Gordon, one time well-known criminal lawyer, author, Indian fighter and brigadier-general, in his will, filed for probate yesterday. Gen. Gordon died in this city on the 11th inst. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. May Gordon Brassey of 2368 West Washington street, at the age of 83 years after forming minute directions regarding his funeral. He left an estate valued at nearly $50,000.

His foregoing quotation follows directions regarding his burial: "I will and direct that my remains be buried in the cheapest and poorest suit of clothes in my possession at the time of my death. If I have better clothes, let them benefit the living.

"I direct that I be buried in a straight redwood box (or coffin) of two-inch sound redwood planks, free from sap-wood, and of the following dimensions, to-wit: Six feet long, by two feet two inches wide, and one foot eight inches high, and that it have no plates or handles thereon."

GAVE FRIENDS CHARGE.

"I want my old friend, Frank M. Parcher of Hudson Court, Hollywood, and John Stephen, head of the Rosedale Granite Company, to have full charge of my funeral. I want no professional 'funeral director' at my funeral."

In another clause in the will, Gen. Gordon directed that his funeral shall not cost more than $100, saying, "I desire the cheapest funeral possible and burial without the service of any priest or clergyman." He directs that the family lots at Rosedale Cemetery be held forever by his heirs, through his executors, Frank M. Parcher and his son, William W. Gordon, and that his body be laid along the west side of the burial monument, with his head towards the north.

Gen. Gordon had been a resident of Los Angeles since 1890. He held considerable real estate, at one time owning the property where the Hotel Clark now stands, the Gordon Building at Second street and Broadway, property on Hooper avenue and several near-by ranches.

The deceased became a lawyer in New York, and later practiced in Minnesota. He was for some time attorney for James J. Hill, who built the Great Northern Railroad. In the Civil War he organized the First Minnesota Volunteer Regiment and was an officer.

ADOPTED BY TRIBE.

Later he engaged in the Sioux Indian War and was made a brigadier-general by President Grant. He was later made a member of the Sioux Tribes. In late years he had written several books, among them "Laconics," and "Indian Legends and Other Poems."

He leaves three children, Huntley L. Gordon, a rancher of Artesia; May Gordon Brassey, a daughter, of 2368 West Washington street, and William W. Gordon, a capitalist of this city.

The will directs that the estate be given to relatives and friends, in bequests of from $100 to $1500, and that if there is any residue, it be used to pay the inheritance taxes on the bequests. He directed that no one shall be buried in the family burial lots except his descendants and those of his children, "especially not my son-in-law, Dr. Alfred H. Hedderly, nor either of my former wives, now divorced."

STAGE LURE LEADS HER INTO JAIL.

Young Dancing Teacher is Held for Taking Clothing of Vaudeville Partner.

The lure of the stage, the need of money with which to secure the necessary pretty dresses and a loss of $10 yesterday landed Babett Tatum, 23-year-old dancing teacher, in the City Jail on a charge of grand larceny. Police Detectives Simpson, Hamilton and Steinriede, who arrested her in San Pedro, say she stole several hundred dollars' worth of clothing from Jack Dillon of 802 South Bonnie Brae street, who was to have been her dancing partner in a vaudeville act.

"I never stole the clothing or anything else," sobbed Miss Tatum in her cell in the City Jail. "I did take the clothing but I thought Jack took $10 from my purse and I took his stuff only to make him return my money. I never intended to keep any of it.

"You see, I am married to a sailor and we don't have much money. I thought that by going on the stage I could help out some. I needed every cent I had to buy clothing to put our act across. Then I missed the $10 from my purse and I thought Dillon had it. So I packed up his clothing and took it away."

LOOK FOR MISSING WIFE.

Search was started yesterday by the Sheriff's office for Mrs. Pearl Crocks, wife of C. J. Crocks of Mallard, a station near Hynes, after the husband reported his wife missing since Tuesday. Mr. Crocks said his wife came to Los Angeles on Tuesday with a small amount of money to do some shopping, and intended to return that night. She is 24 years old, has brown hair and eyes, weighs 115 pounds and is of dark complexion.

Local Synagogue Heads Who Face Federal Grand Jury.

GRAND JURY QUESTIONS THE RABBIS

Charged That Memberships Were Sold for Dollar a Year; Liquor Thrown In.

With the rumblings of a political storm in the offing, the Federal grand jury charged with the investigation of the local liquor situation started its sittings yesterday with a report promised for today, probably late, by U. S. Dist.-Atty. O'Connor, who, with his assistant, Gordon Lawson, is in charge of the quiz.

In connection with the inquiry, it became known yesterday that Asst. U. S. Atty. Lawson is investigating a charge made by Dr. L. C. Toney, a physician of this city, who asserts that he was swindled out of two barrels of whisky by certain police officers, coupled with an attempt to extort $2000 from him.

It is asserted that Toney bought two barrels of whisky intending to send it to a sanatorium he conducted in Texas for medical use. It is charged by Toney that later the police made a raid on his stock after he had given a flask of the stuff to a man supposed to be ill. The whisky was taken and later shipped to Bakersfield, where it was sold, according to the complaint filed in the office of the United States Attorney. It also states that the policemen involved demanded $2000 of Toney under threat of exposing him. It is said that Toney paid $100 of this amount.

The grand jury is reported to have spent the day delving into the affairs of certain Hebrew synagogues and congregations of the city, with especial reference to the charge that for $1 anybody could get a certificate of membership entitling him to ten gallons of wine annually. The permits, it is whispered, covered almost anything in the cellar of the bonded warehouses from the ordinary fruit of the vine to the best grades, all had by the payment of $1 a year.

The witnesses that appeared before the grand jury were Rabbi W. L. Goldberg of the Hebrew Educational School of Los Angeles, 1046 East Thirty-third street; Rabbi P. H. Cohen, of the Anshe Sward, 418 Custer street; Rabbi Hirsh Ganss of the Practical European Mohel, and of Ezrah Uemunah Synagogue, 1101 East Adams street, and Rabbi Jacob Baumann of the Congregation Ansoe Sholem, 1226½ West Washington street.

It is known that the investigation was brought about by means of a report made to the Washington officials by Internal Revenue Collector Carter.

Ultra-Violet Rays Menace Pretty Eyes.

No wonders the ultra-violet ray again, this time in the role of kill-joy for those in the cinema spotlight.

Eye-trouble, caused by the high-powered arc lights which form the silver screen's spotlight, is becoming so common among the directors and stars of the motion picture circles in Los Angeles that it has passed from the fashionable to the bourgeois stage. Several local eye specialists reported yesterday that the number of patients from the studios is increasing rapidly.

"Inflammation of the eye, causing temporarily almost blindness seems to be common among the motion picture people," said one expert. "This condition, long aggravated, no doubt results in the destruction of some of the pigments of the eye, and causes permanent damage to the vision.

"The flashlights and the terrific arc lights used in the studios severely strain the eyes, and the photographers' desire to eliminate yellow light rays has developed so well that the violet rays now are proving a real problem for those who have to face them for long intervals."

MAID TELLS KISS OFFER BY HUSBAND.

A recital by a former maidservant of the husband's asserted attempt to kiss her while his wife was away; the husband's violent prejudice against Christian Science; charges that bribes had been offered for damaging testimony, and Judge Taft's declaration that the wife's promise to obey, included in most marriage ceremonies, is "simply lip service," furnished highlights yesterday in the first day of the hearing of the divorce suit brought by Josephine H. Robinson against Dr. Ray D. Robinson, a prominent dentist.

Esther Treasman, a Polish woman, is the former maid in the Robinson home who declared that the dentist tried to kiss her. She further declared that after she had left the service of the Robinsons, two men called on her and made the charge that Mrs. Robinson had given her money to testify that Dr. Robinson had made improper advances.

Much of the domestic inharmony of the Robinsons, according to the testimony, originated because of Mrs. Robinson's belief in Christian Science healing, and her husband's antipathy to her belief.

Mrs. Robinson further enlivened the proceedings by saying that her husband locked her in the house on one occasion when she wanted to visit her mother. He told her, she said, that she had lost her freedom when she had married. Dr. Robinson countered by declaring that at another time his wife threw an armful of cut glass at him, but she said she could not recall the incident.

The case will be continued today, and promises a hard fight over the custody of the two children. Attys. Stimson and Leroy Edwards represent Dr. Robinson, and Attys. Fuller and Eckman are appearing for his wife.

WIFE AND DAUGHTER HOSTAGES.

Appear in Court for Man Too Ill to be Moved When Arrest is Attempted.

Accused in a secret grand jury indictment of four counts, of obtaining money under false pretenses, B. D. Whiteside was ostensibly placed under arrest yesterday at his home, 533 Harvard Boulevard, while he lay too ill to be taken away. Virtually acting as hostages for him, his wife and daughter went with Deputy Sheriffs Lips and Anderson to Judge Craig's court, where the two provided bail of $5000 cash. Bail had previously been fixed at $15,000, but in view of the circumstances, was reduced.

It is charged that Whiteside made false representations to John R. Crowley, Marcus L. Godfrey and Thomas F. Berkeley, that oil wells he owned near those of the Montebello Oil Company were producing oil, for which he had contracted with the Standard Oil Company, at $3 a barrel. It is charged that on these representations he obtained $5000 from Mr. Crowley, $500 from Mr. Godfrey and $400 from Mr. Berkeley.

MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE HELD BY EAGLES.

Memorial services for members of the organization who have died were held last night by the Fraternal Order of Eagles at their home, 617 West Sixteenth street. The addresses of the evening were made by J. W. Henley, Charles Kiesner, H. C. Katze, secretary of the Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce, and Rev. Baker P. Lee.

STRIPS WIDOW OF THOUSANDS.

"Friend" of Dead Husband Gets Savings, Vanishes.

Gives "Oil Stock" in Return for Her Liberty Bonds.

Ropes in Woman Companion for Her Cash as Well.

Using her dead husband's name as a key to the confidence of Mrs. W. R. Coleman, 5021 South Normandie avenue, a bunko operator took $3400 in Liberty Bonds and $900 in cash from her and $500 from a friend on an oil-stock deal, Mrs. Coleman reported to the police yesterday.

Her story was corroborated by a typewritten receipt from the man, acknowledging that she is the owner of 3000 shares of stock. The asserted friend of her husband has disappeared. The office address he gave Mrs. Coleman is fictitious, she says, and the address he gave for his home in Pasadena turned out to be a vacant lot.

It was on the 6th inst. that the smooth and fluent talking man of the clean-cut, refined appearance that Mrs. Coleman describes came to her house and introduced himself as a salesman of government bonds on refining oil. The next day he returned with another "much better investment," met Miss V. Rose, a nurse of this city, and left some literature regarding the venture after he had explained it in flattering terms.

The following day he procured $500 in cash from Miss Rose and $4300, including the Liberty Bonds for which he "allowed face value," from Mrs. Coleman. She has never seen him since, Mrs. Coleman reports. Her investigation of his addresses convinced her that she had been swindled and the aid of the police was asked.

Mrs. Coleman says the man is about 50 years old, 5ft. 8in. tall, weighs about 150 pounds, is smooth-shaven and has gray hair. He was dressed in a light overcoat, light colored fedora hat and a light suit.

Workman Killed as Cable Snaps and Tank Falls.

Crushed beneath an eight-ton tank when a broken cable allowed it to fall to the ground, George Boling, 40 years of age, an iron worker of San Bernardino, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon in the yards of the Pacific Reduction Company at 2654 Leonard street. The body was removed to the Brown undertaking establishment.

The heavy tank was being moved from a trestle in the reduction company's plant. A number of cables were attached and as it was being lowered one of them snapped.

PROMOTED, ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

New City Attorney Says He Looks on Advancement as Trial by Voters.

Following yesterday's action of the City Council in electing him City Attorney to fill the unexpired term of Charles S. Burnell, made necessary by the latter's election to the Superior Court bench, Jess E. Stephens announced last evening that he will be a candidate at the May primaries for election to the office which he will occupy for five months, beginning January 3.

Jess E. Stephens

"I appreciate," said Mr. Stephens, who has been assistant City Attorney, "the honor given me by the members of the City Council, and I am willing to consider the temporary appointment in the nature of a trial selection, so that I can go before the voters in May and ask that I be continued in office."

Mr. Stephens's selection by the Council was unanimous. Following the reading of Mr. Burnell's resignation, Councilman Criswell made the motion nominating Mr. Stephens and it was seconded by Councilman Mallard.

As senior assistant City Attorney, Mr. Stephens is thoroughly familiar with the duties of his new office, for which he was recommended by leading members of the bar, all of the members of the legal department of the city, the Business Men's Co-operative Association and other organizations. He was admitted to the bar in 1904, having received his legal education at Stanford. From 1909 to 1915 he was deputy City Attorney, resigned to enter private practice, but returned to the city's service in 1915 as a deputy, being promoted in 1918 to assistant City Attorney under his brother, Judge Stephens, then City Attorney.

Woman Burglar Quits Old Way for Preaching.

After admitting fifteen burglaries and spending some time in the County Jail here, Mrs. Charlotte Smale has changed her ways and has taken up Christian missionary work at Phoenix, according to a letter received yesterday by Judge Willis. The court here granted her probation so that she might care for her three children.

NO STUDIO THERE.

As the result of the protest of residents and property owners, the establishment of a zone opposite Forest Lawn Cemetery, inside of which a motion-picture studio could be established, was disapproved yesterday by the Council's Public Welfare Committee.

OVERSEAS CLUB

TRINITY AUDITORIUM
Tomorrow Evening, November 20th

Miss Roland will entertain with a unique song cycle, "Old-Fashioned Ruth," in which she wears a wondrously lovely hoop-skirted costume of a bygone day.

Miss Roland recently purchased a magnificent Chickering Piano and spends many happy hours, when off duty, in singing to its accompaniment, for, be it known, had not the "Queen of the Serials" elected to enter film work she could have had a career as a grand opera star, for Ruth's voice is a glorious lyric contralto, and even as a tiny girl, when a vaudeville headliner, her voice was famed for its beauty and quality.

The Ampico in the Chickering is the instrument purchased by Miss Roland for her home.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

THE TEST OF LOVE.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A young man wants to know how he can tell whether a girl is in love with him or not.

That's easy, for when a girl is really in love she cannot dissemble her feelings. The signs of love break out on her like the measles, so that a blind man might read them as he runs. Of course, men are deceived often about a woman's sentiments towards them, but in such cases they fool themselves. The woman is incapable of doing it herself.

It is a man's vanity that makes him think that a woman is in love with him when she's not, just because she says she is. He believes what he desires to believe. If he would apply these few acid tests to any woman and carefully note her reaction to them he would be able to determine the exact state of her heart and take the temperature of her feelings towards him.

First, take note of the kind of welcome she gives you when you go to see her. It must, indeed, be a stupid man who cannot tell whether a girl runs up the joy flag at his approach or merely flutters any sort of a rag of bunting. Of course, a beau is a beau in these times of the shortage of courting men, and if a girl is to be popular she has to give the glad hand and put on that oh-be-joyful look every time anything in trousers comes along.

But a man does not have to be a Sherlock Holmes to be able to deduce from her general conduct and conversation, whether his coming really does set the golden bells ringing for her, or whether she simply endures him for the sake of having a man hanging around.

He can tell it by the brightening of her face, by the warm gladness about her lips, by the way she hangs on his words. And likewise, he can tell by the far away look upon her countenance, and the way she yawns behind her hand, and tells him that she is so sorry, but mama has a headache and she really must see about her, that his number is among those who also ran.

The second sign that a girl gives of being in love, is when she begins to cut a man out of the herd. If, when you go to see a girl, she always has some other girl about, and makes it threesome instead of twosome, or if she always proposes going about in groups, there's nothing doing for you, son. She's trying to get somebody to help out in entertaining you.

A woman in love is the greatest monopolist on earth. She's jealous even of a man's mother, or sisters, and she's not going to expose the man she wants to the dangers of some dark or blonde woman, who may make havoc of her plans. Also, before she can lead a man up to the proposing point, she has to have him solitary and alone, where nobody can ever answer when he calls for help.

So observe whether your Amaryllis inveigles you off into lonely walks, and says "not at home" to other visitors on the nights you call, or whether she always wants to go with the crowd, and telephones over to John and Mary to come and make up a hand at bridge, and you will know whether she is in love with you for keeps, or is merely marking time with you until the right man comes along.

The third indication that a girl gives of being in love, is when she begins to spare your pocket-book. Take note of whether you are the candy kid or not. All girls have beaux whom they tolerate for the sake of their usefulness. These men have to pay their way as they go to theaters and dances and restaurants.

If a girl always proposes going to some place of amusement when you call, and if she always wants to see the highest-priced show in town, and orders the most expensive dish on the menu, be sure you are merely a convenience and not a heart necessity. She will either say "no" when you pop the question, or if she marries you, it will be because she regards you as a good meal ticket. She really doesn't loves you.

But if, when you call, a girl wants to stay at home, and prefers the drop light in the living room to the movies, you may have her for the taking. She's in love with you for yourself alone. Also when a girl begins to make a man economize on the money he spends on her, and urges him to cut out the candy and lop off the flowers, it's a sure and indelible sign that she is beginning to regard his income as her own and wants to take care of it.

The fourth sign of love is when a girl asks a man to tell her the story of his life, and encores the narrative of the things he used to do when he was a small boy, and listens with an enraptured expression on her face while he goes into the details of all that he said and did at the office that day. It takes a deep and abiding affection, that is all-wool and a yard wide, and fool-proof, to stand for personal reminiscences, and any man can safely ask a girl to name the day who can listen to him monologue about himself through a whole evening, without yawning in his face.

The fifth sign that a woman gives of being in love, is when she begins to try to take care of a man and to mother him. Is your Amaryllis worried about your smoking too many cigaretts, and does she urge youto wear rubbers when it rains, and is afraid that you will get lost going home? By this token shall you know that she is longing to boss you the balance of your life, and tell you how bad everything you like is for your digestion.

Go to it, son. She's ready to weep on the second button of your waistcot while she tells you how h-a-p-p-y she is.

The final proof that a woman is in love, is when she becomes serious and becomes suddenly pious. Perhaps she has a premonition that she'll need the consolations of religion if she marries you. Anyway, it's a sure sign that never fails—that a girl is in love when she takes to going to church and reading profound literature, and studying the cook book

Try these tests of love on your Amaryllis, son. They never fail.

MAKING MORE MONEY.

Bank Clerk Leaves Place for Stage And Then Makes Reputation for Snappy Titles and Witty Sayings.

READERS of periodicals devoted to the lighter side of life have often noted pictures, with explanatory dialogue, signed by the artist's name with the cabalistic formula "Plus A. C." following it. The whole thing looks like a sum in arithmetic, while it is really only the strange solution to a problem which confronts nine persons out of every ten, the problem of making more money.

"A. C.," in this case, is Arthur Crawford, who, only a few years ago, started out as a bank employee in Montreal. But the business of banking, while dignified in the extreme, did not produce financial returns equivalent to the position in life which Crawford felt called upon to maintain. He was expected to dress well and in a number of other ways to support the reputation of the institution with which he was connected—and from which he received a salary that a mechanic or bricklayer would have spurned.

Finally Crawford came to the conclusion that banking did not offer sufficient returns, so he became an actor. It took him less than one season, however, to discover that the rewards of stage-life are even more scanty than those of the brass cage of a receiving teller, and he was forced to draw both ends closer together by acting as a model for a number of New York artists. One day he happened to suggest a most appropriate title for a picture which had just been completed and was rewarded by a five-dollar bill.

"If I can get $5 for a few moments' thought," mused Crawford, "I'd better devote more time to it"—and from that day on he specialized in appropriate captions, clever sayings, witty bits of dialogue and the like, jotting these down in his notebook and passing them on to his artist friends in return for a stipulated commission on the sale of the finished drawing. "Plus A. C." has therefore come to be recognized as a big factor in the humor market, as well as the originator of a most unusual way to add to one's income.

Q.: What was the Chicago day attendance at the Columbian Exposition? Has this ever been equaled or exceeded at any fair? J. N. P.

A.: So far as statistics are available, it would seem that the Chicago day attendance of the Columbian Exposition in 1893 exceeds that of all other expositions. The number of persons admitted during this day was 716,881. At the Philadelphia Exposition of 1876 the greatest number admitted in one day was 217,526; and at Paris, in 1899, 397,150. On San Francisco day of the Pan-Pacific Exposition 348,472 persons were admitted. The attendance of the Pan-American Exposition was materially diminished on account of unfavorable weather.

A.: The War Department says that army reservists have not been called to drill in the past eighteen months, nor will they be called to drill this year.

Q.: What is the origin of the expression: "A little bird told me so"? R. H. J.

A.: Probably the expression had its origin in a verse of the Bible. Ecclesiastes, chapter 10, contains the words: "Revile not the rich in thy bedchamber, for a bird of the heavens shall carry thy voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter."

Q.: What was the nationality of Betsy Ross? R. A. D.

A.: Mrs. Betsy Ross was a native American, born in Philadelphia in 1752.

THE TRUE TEST OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A glorious, large head of hair may arouse comment—but very few women care for it. The desirable thing is hair rich in color—not too much hair—but attractive through its radiance and tone—with a rich sheen and smart lustre—with prominent glints and tints. That is real beauty!

You may think that it is not possible for you to have such hair—that it solely is the treasure of women pictured in fiction—a thing which actually was not true. Now, through Cinderella Golden Glint, the most unusual of all shampoos, dull and drab hair is vivified—dark shadows driven out and the hair made to glow with a newly found radiance—and yet the color of the hair is not changed—neither is it injured, no matter how often this shampoo is used. So popular has Cinderella Golden Glint become that fashionable hairdressing parlors in all the metropolitan cities are featuring it. Visit your hairdresser at your first opportunity—experience the unusual delight and rare satisfaction of this shampoo. If you shampoo your own hair you may buy a package of Cinderella Golden Glint Shampoo at any drug store, toilet goods counter or beauty shop.

Fashionable women patronize beauty shops regularly—and greatly benefit through the service. Even though you haven't the time or inclination to visit a hairdresser regularly, you should go there now and then—for the beneficial information you can gain about your hair.

RED CROSS RIVALRY KEEN.

The competition among club women for the most memberships in the fourth Red Cross roll call is growing keener as the week advances. It is estimated by General Chairman Rex B. Clark, in charge of the roll call here, that the club women by tomorrow will have disposed of between 30,000 and 50,000 buttons. Friday Morning Club women have set their goal at 8000 and Ebell Club members plan to beat this splendid mark.

A beautiful silver loving cup is offered to the woman's club that disposes of the most buttons and brings in the most dollars for the Red Cross during the drive. University Club women are leading.

University of Southern California girls are working hard on plans for a big campaign tomorrow, when 250 fair coeds will canvass the streets, the department stores, the theaters and other places of amusement, to obtain memberships and help put the drive for $200,000, the quota for this district, over the top. With the same happy spirit expressed by University of California girls when they had charge of the campaign last Saturday, the U.S.C. girls are working to win the silver trophy offered by Fred A. Miller, manager of the California Theater, to the university bringing in the most money.

Pastors of churches, too, are promoting socials and other entertainments to raise funds and get the members of their congregations interested in the roll call.

Although the rivalry is strong among competing teams for the big silver loving cup offered by Victory Post No. 54, American Legion, for any organization or unit that brings in the most subscriptions, even the most enthusiastic club believes the firemen have the best chance to carry the trophy away.

FAREWELL NOTE CALLED A WILL.

Wife's Attorneys Offer Sad Message Sent by Spouse Found Dead on Beach.

A pathetic note which I. Watson Myers addressed to his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Myers, a week before his body was found at Seal Beach, was offered by Attorneys Behymer and Craig as a will in Judge Rives's court yesterday. As it bore no name, but was signed only "Your loving boy," the court took the case under submission.

Mr. Myers, who lived at Long Beach and left property valued at $25,720, dated his will Aug. 2, 1920. His corpse was found Aug. 9, 1920.

"This you may regard as a cruel act," the note says, "but I can't stand for an asylum nor could you. . . . I leave all to you and in shape."

to be given for Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Grady (Lucretia del Valle) on Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Storrow, which is to be followed next day by a ranch party given by Mrs. Storrow's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lewis.

They will receive with Mrs. Ogilvy-Wood on the first and third Sundays of each month at "Woodhurst"—the last country place south on South Granada avenue, Alhambra. Mrs. Ogilvy-Wood had a bridge and luncheon at the Midwick Country Club for some New York friends last week-end.

Back from Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Mitchell, who have been passing most of their time in Fort Worth, Tex., the past three years, have returned and are to be here permanently. They are domiciled at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. J. Pellissier of 697 South Serrano street.

For Bride-elect.

Miss Elisa Morphy, whose marriage to Stanley W. Maw of Montreal is set for Saturday, December 11, was the cause for a luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. Titian Coffey. There were plates for ten about a board that was centered with pink cosmos.

Wedding Plans.

The wedding of Miss Virginia Garner and Alfred Hastings is to take place Wednesday evening, December 1, at St. John's Church and Dr. George Davidson is to officiate. Miss Garner's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Lake Garner, Jr., is to be matron of honor, while Dr. Hill Hastings will serve his brother as best man. After the ceremony there will be a small reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lake Garner on West Adams street for relatives and a few intimate friends. The couple will leave immediately afterward, planning to return in time for the Christmas holidays.

THE SHORTAGE.
The United States is over a million homes behind what should have been its natural building program of the last few years. That is why so many people are paying $50 a month for a $15 roof and calling it a home.

THE FOUR HUNDRED.
The local police gathered in thirty-eight drunks on one recent day and it is calculated that the month will show a total of about 400 arrests for intoxication. These pinches are not under the Volstead Act, but under the ancient ordinance of the days of the brass rail and the Knights of the Barroom. With 400 jags a month, belonging to the 400 no longer conveys notoriety, much less distinction.

OVER THE BORDER.
Gen. Obregon will be inaugurated President of Mexico on November 30 and President-elect Harding is invited to be present at the ceremonies. It is probable that he will be unable to accept, as he doesn't need any training for the experience and he would not wish to divert attention from the big show. Nevertheless, it would be a fine thing if the new administration could start in with an amiable understanding and a friendly alignment with a southern neighbor.

A RAW DEAL.
A fourteen-course dinner of uncooked foods and bereft of meat is a very fine and filling thing. Those who have a passion for raw turnips and fresh endive would dote upon it. For them it would indeed be a table dote dinner. But for a man who had trained for forty years on pork and beans and roast beef it would seem more like diversion than substance. Yet we have strong authority for it that raw vegetables form the proper fodder for the human tummy. If you happen to care for them, so much the better.

DOG DAYS.
In a divorce case the other day the judge in disposing of the family gave the custody of the two dogs to the wife and left the husband with no companionship save that of a trained white rat. Whether the judge believed the husband was not a fit person for the dogs to associate with doth not appear; but, anyway, the wife gets the pups. It is at least better that the dogs should go to the wife than that the husband should go to the dogs. If there had been any real children in the family the judge might have been puzzled what to do, but as it was he made short work of it.

GREED AND GRAFT.
A labor-union leader who was paid $30,000 a year by the members of one union is under indictment for grafting about a million dollars through his ability to call strikes whenever he liked. He would throw a thousand men out of their jobs for a month in order to levy blackmail on their employer. Yet we shall doubtless see the unions give this monstrous leech their vote of unlimited confidence and his prosecution will be called a persecution. In his career he ruined and bankrupted several contractors who could not afford to pay the tribute he exacted and he even required the union workers to contribute regularly to his enormous graft. Nevertheless it will be found that organized labor will seek to sustain and support him to the uttermost. It will interest itself in his defense and perjure itself to assure his freedom.

SAFEGUARD THE WATERSHEDS.
Organized resistance against the devastation of forests by fire has been slow in arriving in Los Angeles county, but it now seems certain that something more complete along this line is approaching, as shown in the recent activities of the Board of Supervisors and the County Fire Warden.

The fire that destroyed 160,000 acres of valuable brush-cover a year ago in the Sierra Madre watershed had its origin in the valley. It spread to the hills, destroyed a number of canyon residences and burned over a territory that supplies water for irrigation and domestic use to a dozen towns. It was no larger than a man's hand at one time, but lack of proper organization and equipment allowed it to become a monster.

Now the Supervisors have adopted a stiff fire ordinance, making it necessary to take out a permit to start a fire anywhere in the unincorporated districts. Where a fire is started within five hundred feet of lands covered with inflammable material the person responsible for starting it is subject to heavy fine or imprisonment, providing he has not been given a permit. And the County Fire Warden has appointed eighty deputies in the county to see to it that every safeguard is thrown around any fire when a permit is granted.

The county is co-operating with individuals and corporations in supplying fire-fighting equipment. The work of stationing this equipment along the foothills is well under way. It must be completed before the fire season of from May to December, the Fire Warden says, and in this he is asking the co-operation of every taxpayer. The Times can see no more imperative work than this in connection with our county government and joins with the county officials in urging the greatest preparation in advance of the season of mountain fire peril.

SHUTTING UP SHOP.
Labor-union leaders—some of them at least—declare that it is a crime for an industrial plant to shut down and throw a lot of men out of employment. They go so far as to assert that it is criminal to close the industry, even when there is no market for its product or the business is operating at a loss.

Yet, of course, to these same thinkers it is perfectly proper for the union workmen to go on a strike at any time. If the foreman reprimands a worker for being an hour late the whole force may throw their tools in the garbage pile and go down to the poolroom. If some business agent or walking delegate wants a bit of notoriety or a piece of graft he will blow his whistle in front of the factory and the whole crew will stampede for the open like a flock of sheep.

Almost always a strike is called when the plant is operating at full capacity and the public is clamoring for the product. If it is a mine strike it comes when the world is suffering for want of coal. If it is a street-car strike it is called at the rush hour.

For an industry to be paralyzed as the result of a strike is both natural and proper from the standpoint of union labor. But for a manufacturer to shut down his plant of his own volition is a crime.

Yet it is daily becoming more apparent that a slackening up in a number of industries is imminent. There are many factories that cannot afford to operate at a loss for any length of time. There are many plants that are dependent upon the banks to carry them from season to season. They must borrow in order to buy their raw materials to advantage and they must borrow to carry their stocks through a dead season. They must borrow to make up for the belated payments of debtors. If there is a slowing up of business in any line or at any point it is apt to be felt very quickly by the industries which are compelled to look to the financiers for accommodation. The banks will break the news to them without very much delay. When the banks begin to call in their industrial loans every plant must learn to feel its own way.

Sometimes a manufacturer is compelled to shut down in order to find out exactly where he stands. If he doesn't the Sheriff will lock the door for him. Also there are cases where factories must close because the product cannot be sold. The market is glutted and there is no assurance that the sales force can take care of an increased output. Yet, unless an industry is closed as a result of a strike called by some labor leader, it is apt to be called a crime in union circles. The workmen may have soldiered; they may be giving six hours of work for twelve hours' pay; they may have forced production costs up until the market is lost, but if the factory shuts down save at the call of their particular union it is an offense that smells mightily to heaven and calls for punishment. They will never admit that their own actions and demands have contributed to the condition which may compel the industry to close its doors without a strike being ordered.

There is no defense for a lockout when it is for the purpose of compelling the employees to consent to unfair conditions or wages. Neither is there any defense for a strike that would cripple an industry for no other purpose than satisfying the arrogance of some self-styled labor leader or compelling the recognition of none but the members of a certain union.

But when an industry is compelled to shut down because it cannot sell its goods or pay its men it is in villainous taste for a notorious strike-leader to call it a crime on the part of the owners. They have been insisting on the closed shop; how can they complain if they get the closed door?

COMMODITY CLEARINGHOUSE.
While enough volumes have been written in the several different languages about foreign trade and foreign exchange to build a pyramid, not one of the writers has proposed an acceptable remedy for a foreign exchange condition that is rapidly becoming intolerable. France has been making a remarkable recovery from the economic and industrial ills occasioned by the war. The rest of the world has unshaken confidence in France; but French francs were selling last week for a little more than five cents each. It required the equivalent of $[illegible] in francs to buy a bushel of American wheat. German exchange is, of course, much worse. A bushel of wheat delivered in Berlin cost in marks the equivalent of $35 in American money.

Outside of Russia the currency of the soviet government is worth little more than the paper on which it is printed. Curiously enough, inside Russia, the currency of the defunct empire of the Czars is worth twenty-five times as much as that of the new so-called soviet republic. The incident furnishes a fair illustration of the confidence in which the stability of the soviet republic is held by the Russian people themselves.

While as many theories might be advanced for the collapse of foreign exchange as there are stars in the firmament, they would not improve one whit the desperate plight of millions of women and children in European countries who are dying of hunger because it is impossible for them to purchase at prevailing rates of exchange enough foreign foodstuffs to keep them alive. When wheat is selling at from $[illegible] to $30 a bushel it ceases to exist for the poor. Figure for yourself how long one can evade starvation when it takes the labor of five days to purchase enough food to exist one day. Yet that is not an exaggerated example of the actual condition now prevailing in many European centers of population.

There is food in America and to spare; but there is not enough gold or credit left in Europe to purchase it. Europe does still possess, however, enough man power to provide all the food and clothing necessary for its population, provided that power can again be invested to advantage. The system of international credits that existed before the war has ceased to function. Many are inclined to blame the international bankers; but the real reason is the repudiation of indebtedness by certain European governments and the disintegration of others. That system was based on faith that every modern government would meet its obligations. And that faith was destroyed when the peoples of many countries gave ear to the radical demand for the repudiation of national obligations. Moral delinquency has produced physical misery.

Money is a medium of exchange. But money, per se, is not wealth; neither is the absence of it necessarily poverty. We can easily imagine a condition in which man would starve on a pyramid of gold and perish of gluttony without a dollar. The same is true of man power; it becomes valuable only when it is devoted to producing something of value. In the Europe of today economic systems have been shattered and individuals can no longer find an opportunity to invest their producing power to advantage.

Apparently there is but a single recourse. We recently pointed out that there is something like $2,000,000,000 of foodstuffs in the United States more than actually needed. The surplus is stored in warehouses or left decaying in the fields where it was produced. There are millions of men in Europe that would gladly exchange their labor for some of that food; but they cannot do so because the pre-war system of exchange has broken down. Unless some system of a commodity exchange can be developed that foodstuff will be wasted in the United States and the lives of millions of women and children will be wasted in Europe.

At the present time the American market is overstocked with cotton, but there is a shortage of dyestuffs. Why not a commodity exchange of dyestuffs for cotton? Warehouses in California are stocked with thousands of tons of beans. Why cannot they be exchanged for clothing manufactured in those European industrial centers where man power is going to waste and women and children are starving? Why not an exchange of American wheat for European nitrates?

At the present time the exchange by means of monetary credits is impossible. But let the exchange be placed on a commodity basis and discrimination will cease. The commodity dollar will rise and fall in accord with the fluctuations of supply and demand. The less governmental interference the better. Modern development is in the direction of separating government and industry, just as the church and state are separated. So many governments have grown unpopular that the stamp of the government on the paper of commercial transactions has ceased to be a guaranty of security. One unshrinkable security for a thousand tons of cotton would be print paper or manufactured goods of equal value. In that kind of transaction it would not matter whether francs were valued at five cents or five dollars.

Some of our parlor Bolsheviks are likely to cry in high glee that Socialism has long advocated a system of commodity exchange to replace the gold standard. Let them shout. The Times is not so intolerant that it would reject any solution for the condition of distress that now exists in Europe because it had been advocated by someone who was also an advocate of Socialism. The real condition is this: money has been used for several centuries as a means of facilitating commodity exchange; for commodity exchange is the basis of all modern industry. But the international credit system, based on monetary exchange, has temporarily broken down. Until it can be repaired there must be a return to the older system of trading skins for beads et cetera. If that be Socialism, let the parlor Bolsheviki make the best of it. But the fact is commodity exchange has nothing to do with internationalism and statism, which are the fundamental tenets of Socialism.

Some of the greatest intellects of the generation are now casting about for a plan which will permit the exchange of the surplus foodstuffs of the United States for the surplus man power of Europe. The most likely solution seems to be along the lines of a commodity clearinghouse. Irrespective of what either the Socialists or the international bankers think about it, The Times is of the opinion that an attempt should be made at a practical demonstration of its feasibility.

BILL WON'T PACIFY IRISH.
When an Irish home-rule bill can be passed in the House of Commons by such a vote as 183 to 52 one is bound to take note that the Irish question has undergone a great change. In the early days of home-rule bills, when the Irish were fighting to get what they now say they will reject, the legislators flocked to St. Stephen's to record their votes. Last week more than 300 of them were conspicuous by their absence. In place of the past excitements and the turbulent debates which split parties and overthrew ministries there are a few evenings of lame talk and then less than one-half the members of the House take the trouble to go through the division lobbies and be counted by the tellers.

This great change in so comparatively few years must be put down in great part to the war, which upset so many traditions and which gave new points of view to so many people, including the Irish. The people of the Green Isle, who in Gladstone's day so vociferously demanded home rule and could not get it, don't want it now. They demand something well beyond it—complete independence. The majority are in favor of establishing a republic right at England's door. But the minority, the Ulsterites, ready to fight from the drop of the hat, insist on maintaining the British connection. They come of English stock and do not want to break away. Lloyd George, the eminent compromiser, tries in his bill to satisfy both parties by providing for two Parliaments in Ireland and a means whereby they can later fuse. The measure won't settle the Irish question; there are still stormy days ahead for Erin.

ALL GOOD SPENDERS.
Dispatches from Washington convey the information that no fixed plan for reducing prices or cutting the cost of living will be attempted. We are also assured that the government expenses will necessarily be high for some time yet and that no immediate relief from the burden of taxation is possible. There are a lot of people who think that a change of administration is going to at once revolutionize government expenditures and reduce taxes. This may serve as notice to them that nothing of the kind is likely to happen for many months, and if we are to keep up our army and navy prepared to meet all comers there will be no lessening of taxes at all. The burden may be shifted a little, but it will not be lightened. It is just as easy for a Republican department head to point out the absolute necessity of large appropriations for his bureau as it is for a Democratic one. The science of spending money is monopolized by no party and the Republicans never were pikers. It is but fair to concede this much. The point is that the Republicans were usually more purposeful and efficient in their spending. They were more likely to get the worth of their money. To that extent they are entitled to the larger public confidence.

THE BEARDED GRAIN.
Luther Burbank is promising us a Christmas present of a beardless barley, as well as a composite tomato-pepper that can be converted into catsup with a mere twist of the wrist. He also has on the counter a perpetual-bearing strawberry that in the California climate should be good for a shortcake any day of the year. The whiskerless barley soup is going to be a fine thing. It has always been a nuisance for farmers to have to get out their safety razors and shave their barley to keep their stock from dying of the prickly heat. With the new beardless barley there will be no stickers to torment the gizzards of our hens, and life will be one grand sweet song. With the aid of the ouija board the late Mr. Longfellow can be persuaded to remodel his line about the bearded grain. We do not want our barley to show its age by wearing whiskers. Besides, whiskers are unsanitary.

POLITENESS IN BUSINESS.
It has been estimated that to say "please" in telegrams costs the people of Canada $1,000,000 a year and the people of the United States $10,000,000 a year. Whatever the cost, it is tolerably certain that the money is well spent.

It is notable that the best business firms take the greatest possible pains to use the forms of politeness in correspondence of all kinds. They recognize the fact that it is only good business to do so. One of the first lessons taught pupils in business college is the careful observance of all forms of courtesy in composing letters or telegrams. Business men know that all their intercourse is a constant receiving as well as giving. Business rests upon a complicated interdependence, in which tones of command have small place.

Business long ago proved the value of "I thank you" and "If you please," which, as the kindergarten rhyme has it, are the "little keys" to which "hearts open with ease." And what big business is not too proud to take account of, small private relations would do well to remember, since interdependence is the law of all life.—[Ohio State Journal.

A WESTERN STORY OF DISTINCTION.

BY GORDON RAY YOUNG.

When Owen Wister's "The Virginian" came out I was on a cow ranch 'rastling calves and packing a gun about three sizes too big for Black Jack, who, about that same time, was inflaming my desires to be a train robber. But Black Jack stuck his neck through hemp and I decided to re-enter school in the fall as usual.

The point is this: I didn't then and I don't yet see why "The Virginian" got such an acclamation as a western novel. It may be literature, but it hasn't got in it the sort of boys that used to raise the roof of the XY bunkhouse.

Since then in the way of duty and occasionally by way of pleasure I have read much western fiction. Most of it has been adapted from Emerson Hough's "The Cowboy," which will remain authentic history, and I have seen whole pages of it lifted bodily by ambitious authors—or at least by one such author. Eugene Rhodes is an artist and knows the life. B. M. Bowers spreads her plots pretty thin, but she doesn't have to attend the movies for her local color. And when Frank Spearman and Henry Knibbs are mentioned the Book of Westerners is about filled. The rest is largely lurid coloring, movie stuff, and a studious adaptation of the above-mentioned.

All of which is by way of introduction to "The Long Dim Trail," by Forrestine Hooker, one of the most pleasing western stories I ever read, though it has two plots in it and I don't care for either. In fact, if I had seen the book in manuscript I strongly suspect that I would have walked all over it with cloven hoofs and vowed that no publisher or public would look at it; which only goes to bear out the opinion I have long entertained of myself as a critic.

Mrs. Hooker's book fortunately is having a dazzling success.

It has enough defects to ruin a dozen books, and one virtue so precious there are scarcely a dozen books a generation that have it. She talks about automobiles and moving pictures in the days when old Geronimo jumped the reservation; it is obvious that she didn't quite know what to do with her pair of plots; the arrival of one of the heroines as a picture bride to be repelled by the venerable groom's unsuspected green whiskers is a cheap and undignified way of getting Traynor's old sweetheart into the story; Dr. Powell, easterner, has too many movie gestures and the debonair nonchalance with which he justifies bad men and hogties them is as false a note as a tin pan in a symphony; Katherine's assiduous faithfulness to her drunken beast of a husband is enough to turn the spirited reader out of sympathy with such devotion—particularly when she is in love with another man. And when a tree falls on and kills the villain I have followed for 400 pages just to see him get shot as he deserves—well, I feel downright cheated. The movie makers know better. When they put on "The Long Dim Trail" a tree won't fall on Glendon, at least not until he has his heart loaded with lead.

But all that is of no importance. It is a case of the plot being badly focused. A matter of technique. After you get into the trick it is easy to write novels in which the characters are nicely adjusted; but the Arizona cow country spirit and men are here, and the little incidents and wanderings of narrative make it a distinctive and entertaining book. These fellows talk as cowboys used to talk, with slow speech, droll humor and range phraseology. The story is full of words I haven't heard for twenty years, used with the ease and freedom that I heard as a kid on the Cimarron. Mrs. Hooker has drawn from life, written from memory—and the spots in the book filled in by imagination are splotches. Roarer, Bronco, Holy, unromantic, untheatrical, awkward, joshing, honest and invariably getting into trouble if they try to have a little fun, are perfectly handled.

Hassayampa Bill, who doesn't appear in the story in person, is a great cow-country legend. The cowboy was a homely Homer, always ready, however, to sing the exploits of some half if not wholly mythic character; and Limber as a narrator of Bill's deeds is as fine a bit of work as can be asked for. Limber should have been the hero. He is the real stuff of the old West, and Mrs. Hooker probably thought she was making a hero of him—then let him get crowded almost out of the picture by the poseur of a doctor.

The book is full of incidents; the author is inventive and prodigally scatters episodes enough to furnish forth a hundred short stories. Also she has genuine feeling, and the two child characters, though inartistically similar, are drawn in a way to make the heart ache. She has a multitude of strong points without being aware of just what they are.

With evident design she has managed to give at some time or other in the book almost every aspect of cow punching: the round-up, the trailing, shipping, branding and meaning of brands, the drought and its suffering. This last is a particularly good feature.

And she does it with the ease of one who has been through the milling. She happened to be one of those rare personages more met with in fiction than on the range, a cowgirl. Augustus Thomas made her the heroine of "Arizona," which he wrote on her father's ranch. She punched cows, put through sales, inspected them officially, did a man's work on the range and studied cow disease and breeding. As the daughter of an army officer, Brig.-Gen. Charles L. Cooper, she went through the Indian campaigns in Arizona.

All of which goes to show that if you really know what you are writing about you can't help but make a good book of it; and at least two-thirds of "The Long Dim Trail" is pure gold. If she had thrown out the hero and one of the heroines and let Limber plug the villain it would have been a great story.

The American's Creed—for you and me.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

By John Strong.

ALL WORKERS.

Every citizen U.S.A. is a worker.

Not one of us has more rights before the law than any other citizen. What each earns is equally protected.

Any leisure in America is earned leisure and it can't be entailed. The next generation loses it if it will not work.

There is no hereditary moneyed class. We go from shirt sleeves to money and from money back to overalls. If we don't work we can't eat.

Noblesse Oblige declares for the nobility of work in America by guaranteeing right of possession for everything that work gets us.

If our work gets us little, that little is ours, and no class can take it from us. If our work gets us a pile, the guarantee is just the same.

Thousands, possibly millions, of foreigners have come to the U.S.A., made their pile, then have gone back to their former lands and classes for God knows what reasons.

More millions have amassed fortunes here and stayed. More millions are pouring in every year to escape their home classes and class restrictions.

Noblesse Oblige obligates us to teach them that equal rights, liberty and opportunity mean they can keep all they earn, but also obligate them to uphold these equal rights for all future time.

The agitators who sow violence as the remedy for discontent, who preach class hatred or class consciousness are beasts of prey, duping the ignorant for their own purposes.

Honest agitation for class violence in the U.S.A. is impossible. Such agitation is betrayal of liberty. The agitator is a wolf in the fold. Noblesse Oblige obligates us to extinguish him like a wolf.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THERE'S NO RULE.

Old Gaffer Jinks should be a wreck; for eighty years he's been on deck; and when a man has lived that long his cylinders are hitting wrong in thirteen cases out of ten, but he's a wonder to all men, for he is chipper, blithe and spry, and we all stare when he goes by. And if you ask him for the truth concerning how he's kept his youth, he'll say, "I never smoked or chewed and no one ever saw me stewed." And this should teach us how to hold the health of youth, which is life's gold. Beware the flagon and the pipe if you would reach an age that's ripe! But now old Gaffer Todd appears, and he has lived for ninety years, and he's so brisk and full of pep it thrills us when we see his step. "How have you dodged," I ask this Todd, "a resting place beneath the sod?" "I've always chewed and smoked," says he; "I like a drink and sometimes three." And thus we learn, so help us Mike, that we should do just as we like, if we would live to wintry years with supple joints and active gears. Some men, methinks, are predesigned to leave a hundred years behind, and they will see the journey through—makes no difference what they do.

WALT MASON.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Old Ab Jenkins says there are Too many fool inventions in the World nowadays and he trailed
His daughter Mary up to the city
When she ran away with the Pal-
Ace shoe clerk to get married
And he got to the county clerk's Office hot on their heels and he Got to the hotel where they had
The preacher staked out in the Parlor on the top floor just as
The lovers had left the automa-
Tic elevator and he pushed the
Button for it to come back down
And it did and he got in and the Hotel man saw what was up he waited until Ab had almost reached
The top he pushed the botton and Down came the elevator with Ab
And he did the same thing three Times, Ab getting madder all the
Time, and when the poor father
Got to the top the fourth time
And was let get out the preacher
Being a Baptist and using a short
Service had the knot tied so
Tight that there was nothing
Left for Ab to do but kiss the Bride and say "God bless you,
My children."

THREL FALL.

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE.
One needs to read the stories of the desperate plight of millions of people in European countries to get a right view of the happy conditions that surround the people of the United States. This country has foodstuffs in quantities almost unlimited, and with prices tending downward. One-third of the people of the war-stricken lands abroad are on bread rations, so Herbert Hoover has made public. Here there are money, medical skill and supplies to meet any sudden need. Abroad there is lack of funds, lack of adequate medical skill and supplies.

Here there is employment at the best compensation in the history of the country, so those who face war prices may yet fight their way to victory and care abundantly for those dependent on them. Abroad money is scarce, labor opportunities meager in most places, while in soviet Russia labor has been nationalized, men and women being sent where some governmental agency decides, paid what governmental officials fix and what they may earn, what they may eat, what they may purchase or wear, all are dictated by soviet officials.

Economically, there is no land in the world that has conditions comparable to those in this country. We have abundant justification for being the happiest people on earth. We have conditions that vex and annoy, but they are curable, and they are minor, not major conditions. It takes a view of European troubles to show us, relatively, how happy is our condition.—[Ohio State Journal.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years
Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."
The point is: You're no older than your vitality.
If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 60 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor halt time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.
When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality on the wane, you should com-

BEGIN PACOIMA DAM WORK SOON

Job to be Under Way Within Next Sixty Days.

Project Wins Approval from Reclamation Head.

To Top Arrow Rock, Roosevelt, Elephant Butte.

Work will be started within sixty days on the highest dam in the world, 400 feet, to be constructed in Pacoima Canyon as a flood control measure, according to an announcement made last night by J. W. Reagan, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District, following a tour of inspection with Arthur P. Davis, chief of the United States Reclamation Service, who approved the project before leaving last night to inspect the Boulder Canyon dam site on the Colorado River.

In approving plans for the Pacoima dam, Engineer Davis called attention to the fact that after having built Arrow Rock dam in Idaho, Elephant Butte dam in New Mexico and Roosevelt dam in Arizona—the three largest dams in the world—he must now stand aside and see Mr. Reagan construct a dam fifty feet higher. According to Mr. Reagan, Mr. Davis intends to have the height of all three of the government dams in question raised thirty feet in order to store more water for irrigation.

The Pacoima dam will be built in a deep cut about half a mile from the mouth of the canyon and four miles east of San Fernando. Van Nuys is soon to call a special election to vote $500,000 in bonds for her share of the work. The flood control district will finance perhaps $500,000, and State money will be secured to pay the remainder of the bill. It will cost $1,500,000 to do the job and take two years to finish it.

Discussing it last night Mr. Reagan said that the dam would store 12,000 acre feet of water—enough to irrigate probably 5000 acres of San Fernando Valley land. It will create a lake two and one-half or three miles long, which will be stocked with trout. Mr. Reagan says that after the dam is once filled with storm water from the ridge it will never be empty, and that he hopes to see the artificial lake become a convenient recreational resort for Southern California.

There are scores of summer homes, cabins and bungalows of more or less pretentious type, in the canyon. These, the engineers think, will have to be moved high on the mountain sides to avoid the lake when the dam is ready to impound the water.

To Hear Plans for Institute of Technology.

Plans for the establishment here of an institute of technology, to be conducted under the direction of the Board of Education, with advice from the Citizens' Advisory Committee, will be outlined to the board at 7:30 p.m. today by Irving H. Rice, chairman of the advisory committee. The two bodies are to meet in the office of the Board of Education.

It is proposed to use existing equipment of the various schools, and it is believed that $100,000 will be sufficient to equip and operate a part of the proposed institute for the rest of this school year.

Hundreds of leading business men are interested in the project.

LEGION POST ADOPTS TENT HOUSING PLAN.

CAN PURCHASE CANVASSES IN CITY; COST TO RENTERS IS FIGURED OUT.

Los Angeles Post No. 8, American Legion, last night adopted an emergency housing plan by which it expects to hold a club over the local rent hogs. This plan, which grew out of an investigation conducted by the post's Housing Committee, contemplates the purchase of 1000 tents which, in the event the demand for temporary housing accommodations grows critical, are to be erected on city owned land by the authority and under the supervision of the City Council. By this plan, they may be occupied for a period of six months or longer if necessary.

H. H. Harris, who presented the committee's report, explained that it is proposed to purchase the 1000 tents in Los Angeles at $30 each. The cost of erection will be $50 additional per tent for labor, flooring, boarding, etc., making a total expenditure of $80. A charge of $10.50 per month for six months to cover policing, gas, light, etc., would be required. This would make a total fixed charge of $155, or a cost of $25.83 per month to the occupant, distributed over a period of six months. The expense, however, would be reduced, according to the committee's estimate, by $40 for salvage value in case the tent-holder desired to sell the tent and lumber when through with it.

Mr. Harris said it is proposed to require a payment of $40 when the occupant takes possession, the balance of $40 to be paid within sixty days.

Mr. Harris criticised the indifferent attitude of Secretary of War Baker toward the housing needs of Los Angeles. "Our telegram to the Secretary, requesting an opportunity to purchase a supply of tents through the War Department was ignored," he said.

FIRST ORDINATION BY BISHOP STEVENS.

The first ordination by Bishop-Coadjutor Stevens of the local Episcopal diocese will occur tomorrow morning at St. John's Church, when Rev. Martin D. Kneeland, a deacon, will be ordained. Rev. George Davidson, the rector, will preach the sermon. Mr. Kneeland is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and the Cambridge Divinity School, was a teacher of French at U.S.C. and during the war was attached to the French forces as a directeur in Les Foryers du Soldat. After his ordination he will be sent to Santa Paula, where he is to have charge of the Episcopal congregation.

G. H. HILL, of Brattleboro, Vt., who says he never felt better in his life than he does now, although before taking Tanlac he was in such a run-down condition he wasn't able to do a day's work for three months. Says he has gained thirty pounds.

"It may sound unreasonable, but when I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 114 pounds and had not been able to work for over three months. Today I have as much strength and energy as I ever had and have actually gained 30 pounds in weight. In fact, I have never felt better in my life, and I owe the remarkable change in my condition to Tanlac and Tanlac alone.

"To tell you the truth, I don't know what would have become of me if it hadn't been for this medicine, for I had just about lost my health completely and the treatment I was taking was doing me no good. In fact, I hardly had strength enough at times to walk across the room.

"My principal trouble was indigestion, and I also suffered from catarrh and nervousness. My stomach was in such a weakened condition that I rarely ate any breakfast and had to live on a very restricted diet.

"After reading a lot about Tanlac I decided one day to give it a trial, and it seemed to suit my case perfectly, for in only a short time I was able to go back to work. I just want to be eating all the time now, and everything—even onions and pork—agrees with me perfectly. I shall always praise Tanlac."

The above statement was made recently by G. H. Hill, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Brattleboro, Vt.

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.—[Advertisement.

NASTY COLDS ARE RELIEVED AT ONCE

"Pape's Cold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all grippe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist on Pape's!—[Advertisement.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

D.A.R.

Making the old and historical both timely and interesting, the Southern California chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution united Tuesday in celebrating the signing of the Pilgrims' compact on board the Mayflower, Nov. 21, 1620, by presenting a historical program and serving tea to 400 daughters from points all over the southern part of the State at an elaborately appointed affair in the Ebell clubhouse.

Perhaps the most striking of the living pictures presented by Los Angeles chapters was the one by El Camino Real Chapter, "Signing the Compact," an exact replica of an old steel engraving from the original picture once in the possession of Maj.-Gen. P. Kearny, U.S.A. The engraving, one of three in the country, is owned by Mrs. Earl J. Fellows of this city. Gen. Fremont Chapter, Hollywood, and Eschscholtzia presented "Welcome by the Friendly Indians," Peregrine White's "Lullaby" and "John Alden and Priscilla Mullens." These were interpreted by Miss Harriet Spaulding of Eschscholtzia Chapter.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. Harriet S. Wright, representing the Mayflower organizations of the State, by Mrs. C. C. Cottle and by Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey; Mrs. Thomas Hall gave a piano solo; Miss Virginia Middaugh a reading and Mrs. Gail Mills Dimmitt sang the "Star Spangled Banner" as the accompaniment to the fifth of the living picture series.

Those at the tea urns were Mrs. J. C. Barlow, Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Emmet Wilson, Mrs. George McCoy and Mrs. Arthur H. Nelson. Others assisting were Mrs. John W. Shenk, Mrs. C. E. Rawson, Mrs. Ella Van Court, Mrs. W. L. Bullis, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, Mrs. E. H. Pepper, Mrs. William Gibbon and Mrs. William Cottle.

Little Miss Janet Quillian in Pilgrim costume of old blue showed the Pilgrim relics, some of which are of great rarity. She herself is directly descended on both sides of the house from Peregrine White and Mary Chilton, whose names were on the list of those who came in the Mayflower.

Ebell Club

As this is Children's Book Week throughout the United States, the "book luncheon" yesterday at the Ebell clubhouse, interesting at any time, assumed special significance. Perhaps nowhere could a more tried collection of children's books be found than the one exhibited by Mrs. Charles A. Toll, president of the club, who has four sons ranging from 10 to 18 years of age. The books, though many of them were worn from much reading, showed a care in handling that denoted the book lover.

In the list were many of the old favorites, as the "Swiss Family Robinson," "Robinson Crusoe," "Treasure Island," "Kenilworth" and "Rob Roy."

Miss Marie Lily, a poet well known in the East, was the guest at luncheon, speaking of Edwin Markham and his poetry. Mr. Markham is Miss Lily's neighbor and she told in a charming way of his hospitable home.

Other speakers at luncheon and in the literature section program in the morning were Miss Frederica De Laguna, Mrs. W. B. Scarborough, Mrs. Randolph Hill, Miss Ellen Andrews and Miss Mary Blanchard.

Echo Park Mothers' Club.

Today a California Federation program will be presented at the meeting of the Echo Park Mothers' Club in the clubhouse. The luncheon speakers will be Mrs. Herbert Cable, general federation secretary; Mrs. J. B. Sterns, State federation secretary, and Mrs. H. D. Final, secretary of the Los Angeles district.

In the afternoon there will be vocal solos by Mrs. F. W. Busch and Mrs. E. R. Lucas. Mrs. Sterns will give a short address on "Federation Work," and there will be a talk by the district federation emblem chairman, Mrs. Joseph F. Devin, and a reading by Miss Dorothy Joseph.

The club federation secretary, Mrs. Harry B. Schultz, has arranged the program and will preside. Next week there will be the usual gymnasium hour at 10 a.m. followed by a parliamentary drill and book review, with Mrs. H. Van Wormer in charge.

Los Angeles District.

Senator Rominger of Long Beach will discuss "Contemplated Legislation on Prohibition Enforcement" at the monthly meeting of the civics and legislation meeting of the Los Angeles District of Women's Clubs tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in parlor D, Chamber of Commerce.

Senator Lyon will discuss "Community Property Legislation;" Senator Chamberlin will treat "The "Japanese Question" and Senator Gates will speak on the "Part of Women in Legislation."

This is the second regular conference of the year called by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt and Mrs. Charles A. Holland, who are chairmen of the two departments. Mrs. Willebrandt will preside and the meeting will be more in the nature of a conference between the women and the Senators rather than a set program. A large attendance is expected and the Senators have promised bravely to answer all questions propounded.

Friday Morning Club.

The guests of honor at the Friday Morning Club today are to be Lady Gilbert Parker and Mrs. William De Mille. The chief speaker will be O. J. Rose, an American ace, having brought down twenty-eight airplanes. He has medals from four of the Allied countries. Dr. M. H. Marvin of the Industrial Welfare Commission of Washington will speak on "The New Social Order" and Dr. J. W. Mace Andrews of the United States educational department will speak on "Child Welfare."

The regular program in the morning is "Changing Types of English Fiction," presented by Prof. F. T. Blanchard of the English department at Berkeley.

The club is announcing the first appearance in Los Angeles for the programs in December of five internationally-known speakers and artists. They are: Edgar Dawson, speaking on "Budget & Grab Bag;" W. L. George, speaking on "Modern Marriages," and Frank Alvah Parsons, with the subject "Relation to Environment." The last program will be a joint recital by Adele Marcus, the 13-year-old pupil of Josef Desider Vecsei, and Margaret Cheeseman.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Datest:

Gray of various shades and of many differing materials, in all departments of dress. Gray furs to complete the costume—squirrel and mole preferred—gray for the tailored suit, gray for the afternoon frock either simple or ornate, gray and silver for the evening dress. Gray gloves and shoes, of course, accompany these.

Also there is a fad of wearing gray hat, neckpiece, veil, gloves, pumps and hose with suits and dresses in other colors.

Dainty little evening hats of metallic laces with upstanding frills set back from the face and gay-colored flowers as enlivenment.

More than ever sumptuous are the furry evening wraps of ermine—preferably tail-less. The snowy whiteness of this fur against the face is so becoming that it will be long ere women are resigned to its relinquishment. Also ermine grows more scarce and more expensive year by year.

Now is the Time to Buy:

Shirts for men. Even though you may have missed the stirring shirt sale which brought out the fact that men really are bargain hunters, you may still benefit by rival sales.

Table linens which are coming in again in sufficient quantities to interest and at prices not beyond reason. Napery of fine quality, making excellent gifts for homekeepers.

Have You Conferred With?

Have you done your share toward making Christmas practical? That share consists in consulting with Gift Granny.

She is here in a store not seventh—but you will find her if you make a conscientious search. She is ensconced in an endearing old timey corner, where—sitting before the fire of ashy logs—you may feel as though carried backward upon time's magic carpet to days of yore.

Rag rugs on the floor, quaint colonial furniture is there and Gift Granny herself is clad in cap and surplice, her shining gray, parted hair and her beaming benevolent face inviting your confidence. To her you may give the names of those whom you would Christmas-give. She will then write to those—in confidence—withholding your name—and in return they may enumerate the gifts for which they would be truly grateful. The lists are then mailed to you and from that point on it is your own fault if you do not present such articles as will cause blessings to descend upon your head throughout the coming year. Clever idea, don't you think?

Be Both.

"Which shall we be this year, practical or frivolous, in our Christmas giving?" asked Evelyn, as we started to make out our lists.

We had headed our long columns with the following caption, printed in big hand-made letters: Let's do Our Christmas Shopping Early! And we were setting forth to follow our own instructions in this regard, not even waiting for the Thanksgiving holiday to be spent ere we began expending Christmas moneys.

"Shall we," asked she, "give to each other all the wearables we have economized out of existence during the past several years? Or shall we give the frivolities that we have so missed—the things we have only looked at with a sigh as we passed by, because of war-time investments and war taxes?"

"Let us do both!" was my unhesitating answer. "Let us exchange practical articles such as you have mentioned and then let us make out lists of the luxuries and just revel in the things we do not really need, making it an old-time holiday!"

A Nicety Box.

All in lavender is that box of feminine niceties which might well be first upon the lists of those selecting gifts for her.

The capacious case or chest is lined with lavender satin and the bottles, boxes, tubes are in lavender touched with gold. There are, in fact, several assortments of complexion condiments from which to choose—creams which actually do add smoothness to the skin, powder as fragrant as freshly plucked garden posies, waters and essences which are the very soul of flowerdom. You cannot mistake the habitat of this prima donna among feminine gifts, for the articles have a department to themselves and are displayed beneath a set of purple-shaded lamps, touched with gold as are the packages. Moreover, the young lady who presides is the embodiment of daintiness, proving by her own flawless countenance the efficacy of her wares.

And for Him.

And, since the day is past when the man of parts may go unkempt as to fingers and complexion, there is a gift package for him. Of course shaving creams and soap form part of this de luxury.

Horses as Toys.

As the horse becomes more scarce, he is more used as a plaything, it would seem. Each season the Christmas toy sections bring forth horses more than ever perfect in their semblance of the passing animal. In a leading local store, the most popular spot among the toys is that where is exhibited a horse of live pony proportions, a prancing roan with actual horsehide for his bodily covering. In fact, he looks as though taxidermy, rather than toy-making had been his origin. In that section even the horses of small size are as perfect—in their toyish way—as are the actual animals. So, there are two realms where horses are not "going out"—the equestrian and toyland.

Good Food and Good for One.

"To pour bacon fat over the crisply toasted bread for breakfast, is a specific for throat and lung troubles," said the British captain who has spent many years in India and other eastern places. Once try this food-remedy and you will vote that here, at least, is a remedy as pleasant as efficacious. Of course, no butter is used with the melted bacon fat—an economy item at present.

Remarks by Dame Fashion.

A costume of brick-colored duvetine uses bindings of navy blue grosgrain ribbon to advantage.

A charming frock for a small girl is of gingham and chambray and has two ruffles to form each sleeve.

A dress of white crepe de chine has an apron panel of little ruffles and is embroidered in bright woolen flowers.

One smart coat of gray duvetine shows cartridge pleats at the sides.

Children's frocks show a tendency to use pin tucks wherever possible.

Wraps and coats of every sort should have very softly belted lines.

Lace panels of unequal length are favored by the fashionable world.

Rust color is plainly a popular color, especially for afternoon wear.

Knife-pleated frills in a contrasting color trim a blouse of crepe de chine.

Capes of rust or beige duvetine are worn over sweaters for sports wear.

While in Paris the high collar is established, its adoption here is doubtful.

Side tunics with a slightly circular cut are good with the long body line.

Slashed tunics and filmy lace at neck and sleeves are noted on fall suits.

The influence of the Moyen-age styles is noted in every sort of costume.

The collars and cuffs of boys' white wash suits are trimmed with ruffles.

PERJURY TRIAL IN MARCH.

Judge Craig yesterday set the trial of Clara and Elsa Livingston, accused of perjury, for March 3, next. They are accused of giving false testimony in the trial of a suit brought by J. W. Schultz, their brother-in-law, against their brother, Ben Livingston, for services given Livingston in his asserted flight to evade the draft.

FLAG JUGGLER ARRIVES HERE.

Starter Wagner on Hand for Speedway Races.

Roll Call of Officials is Now Complete.

Drivers Ducked Practice Spins Yesterday.

Frederick J. Wagner, who juggles flags on a race course with unsurpassed grace and ease, and Richard Kennerdell, chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon. They were met at the station by J. V. Smith, Southern California representative of the contest board, and Secretary A. M. Young of the Los Angeles Speedway Association.

ALL COMPLETE.

The roll call of officials for the Thanksgiving Day championship speedway race is now complete with the exception of Eddie Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces, who will act as referee. Rick sent his official acceptance yesterday, saying that he would fly down from Oakland on Tuesday in his Fokker scout plane, leaving at 10 o'clock in the morning and arriving at De Mille Field, Hollywood, in three hours or less.

NO PRACTICE.

There was no practice on the speedway yesterday, but Eddie Miller, Duesenberg pilot, and Al Thiele, driver of the Thiele Special, expect to get out today and rip off their first practice on the big board basin. Hearne, Milton and Joe Thomas hardly expect to get their cars in shape for practice before Saturday, although there is a possibility that they will be out today. Messrs. Kennerdell and Wagner will take a little trip out to the track today and look things over in their official capacities, and Starter Wagner will take charge of the practice from this time on.

WARREN OF CHICAGO WINS IN CUE MATCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Tied for fifty-three innings, Charles Warren of Chicago, defeated Charles Otis of Brooklyn, 50 to 43, in the national three-cushion billiard tournament today in sixty-two innings.

In the second game, Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago won from Jess Lean of Denver, 50 to 30, in seventy-two innings.

Tigers and Sagehens Ready for Annual Dispute.

Ring and Film Stars to Aid in Charity Show.

Stars of the film and stars of the ring are to meet in fistic combat as the big feature of the benefit at Trinity Auditorium tonight for the city's needy children.

Such former luminaries of the hempen square as Joe Rivers, Leach Cross, Kid McCoy and Tommy Ryan are to cast aside their civilian duds for the evening and don the spangles of the prize ring again.

Bull Montana, the handsomest wrestler in the local movie colony, is slated for a kicking and slapping orgy with Gust Pappas, the roly Greek.

COMEDY STUNTS.

Comedy bouts will be fought by Slim Summerville and Bobby Dunn and Charley Dorety and Pete Gordan. Frankie Farnum is programmed to give his famous "shimmie" exhibition.

Charlie Murray will officiate as announcer, and Tommy Ryan will referee the bouts. The Mack Sennett bathing girls, under the supervision of Louise Fazenda, have been secured to kick up a little commotion.

The evening's performance, staged under the direction of the Southern California Welfare Service, is for the purpose of raising funds for the destitute children of Los Angeles.

Here are some of the four-round bouts that have been arranged:

Joe Rivers vs. Leach Cross.
Kid McCoy vs. Tommy Ryan.
Tom Mix vs. Bert Collma.
Danny Edwards vs. Marshal.
Cliff Jordon vs. Matty Wolgast.

MAJOR LEAGUES TO LENGTHEN SEASON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—When the major leagues hold their annual meetings in February, they will consider a proposition to lengthen their schedules from 154 to 168 games, it was learned today.

Proponents of the plan argued that since many of the teams are allowed to play on Sunday on their home grounds, the season would not be unduly lengthened by the proposed change.

BROWN SAYS NOTHING OF BUYING FRANCHISE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 18.—R. H. Brown, president of the Vancouver (B. C.) team of the Pacific International League, was in Portland today. He made no comment on reports that he had made an offer for the franchise of the Salt Lake City Pacific Coast League team.

Southern Conference Football Title at Stake.

Occidental and Pomona meet in their customary battle for grid honors tomorrow afternoon at Patterson Field. Above, some of the things which may come to pass, according to Bob Day, staff cartoonist, and below, Holly Fulton, the powerful Tiger fullback, who never saw a football until this season, and "Pud" Hadden, the half-portion sensation in the Oxy backfield.

DAVE BANCROFT, ERSTWHILE COAST LEAGUER, IS KING OF PRESENT DAY SHORTSTOPS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Exceptional honors have been attained by Coast League shortstops graduating into the majors.

The list among others contains such illustrious short fielders as Roger Peckinpaugh, Ivan Olson, Zeb Terry, Chuck Ward, Charley Hollocher and Dave Bancroft.

All are classy performers, and most of them above the average of major league standards.

Yet topping them all is the veteran Bancroft. This ex-Coaster is without argument the greatest shortstop in the game today, and on the basis of his play this season the greatest of the decade.

Early in the year Bancroft was believed to be on the decline, and according to the well known laws of nature as it pertains to athletes, should be sinking below the horizon. But with his transfer from the decadent and somewhat rummy Phillies to the Giants, Bannie put on a fresh burst of youth, and played the position as it seldom if ever has been played before.

Veterans of the majors, now scouts or mere spectators, declared Bancroft the peer of any shortstop they had ever seen in point of sheer fielding, while, as the records show, he batted around .300. This combination left nothing to be desired.

Bancroft added a slice of second base to his regular position, and for a time also annexed some of the third base terrain. On his left was Larry Doyle, who was kept afloat by gameness when his legs faltered under him. At times, Larry seemed hardly able to go more than six feet to either side. He reminded me of nothing so much as a badly wounded battleship, careening wildly into action, determined to go down fighting. So Dave played a portion of that base. On his right early in the season were King Lear and Ed-

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, will defend his title in a fifteen-round bout against Bill Brennan, the Chicago challenger, at Madison Square Garden here December 14. This will be the first contest between big fellows to be decided in New York State under the Walker law.

PASADENA JUMPER TAKES FIRST PRIZE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 18.—Bounder, R. L. English's jumper from Pasadena, Cal., took first place in the heavyweight hunter's class in the horses how performance at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition last night. Bounder repeated a few moments later in the event of the evening, the five-foot performance class.

DARTMOUTH SQUAD TO MEET WASHINGTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Dartmouth's football squad, numbering twenty-one men, will leave after the game here with Brown University next Saturday to meet the University of Washington eleven at Seattle November 27.

The team is due to arrive at Seattle Wednesday night, and on Thursday and Friday light practice will be held on the University of Washington athletic field.

CENTRE SQUAD MAY TACKLE ARKANSAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FAYETTEVILLE (Ark.) Nov. 18. Negotiations for a football game next year between Centre College of Kentucky and the University of Arkansas have been opened by the manager of the Centre team. If arranged, the game will be played at Memphis, Tenn.

Oregon Eleven Has but Five of 1919 Squad.

The Oregon eleven which plays the U.S.C. team in the great Thanksgiving Day football game at Tournament Park, Pasadena, will have but five letter men from last year's team in the line-up.

These are Capt. Bill Steers, halfback; Spike Leslie, left tackle; Brick Leslie, center; Carl Mautz, right guard, and Mart Howard, left end.

NEW MEN.

The new men on the Eugene varsity are Reinhart, quarterback, 160 pounds; King, fullback, 169 pounds; Hill, left half, 141 pounds; Strachan, left guard, 182 pounds; A. Shields, right tackle, 190 pounds, and Bud Brown, right end, 178 pounds.

Oregon has played four games to date, winning from the Multnomah Club, 7 to 0; Idaho, 13 to 7; the University of Washington, 17 to 0, and losing to Stanford, 10 to 0, when the team was in bad shape.

PLAY BETTER.

The game with the University of Washington was played last Saturday, and the Lemon Yellow eleven played in a 100 per cent stronger key, according to advices from the North.

Bill Steers, who has been slow to round into form this fall, is now at top notch and playing the type of game that caused Walter Camp to place him on the All-American team last year. In the U. of W. game he ran eighty yards to a touchdown, kicked a field goal and lugged the ball to a point where his mates could buck over for another touchdown. The Trojans will have plenty to take care of in "Bad Bill."

MERMAIDS SET A NEW INDOOR MARK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — The Misses Ethelda Bleibtrey, Charlotte Boyle, Alice Lord and Aileen Riggin, American Olympic stars, set a new unofficial world's record for a 400-yard indoor relay race for women swimmers here yesterday. Their time was 4m. 46 1-5s., or 17 1-5s. under the international indoor standard set in Detroit last April. Because the tank was not the prescribed length the record will not be given official recognition.

BABE RUTH HITS 'EM OUT IN CUBA GAMES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HAVANA, Nov. 18.—During the baseball games played by the New York Giants here, Babe Ruth, the champion home-run hitter, compiled a batting average of .345, but managed to hit only twice for the circuit. He struck out six times.

Torriente, a member of the team which met the Giants last week, eclipsed Ruth by hitting three homers in one game. As a result, he has been named by local fans the "Babe Ruth of Cuba."

TILLMAN GETS DECISION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TOLEDO (O.) Nov. 18.—Johnny Tillman of St. Paul, was given a shade in the newspaper decision over Jack Perry of Pittsburg, in their twelve-round bout here last night. The bout was fast. The men are welterweights.

SEALS GET ELLISON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Nov. 18.—Bert Ellison, Tiger infielder, has been traded to the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League today for Pitcher Cole, President Navin of the Detroit Americans, announced.

TENNIS CRACKS TO PLAY AMERICANS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A dispatch to the Exchange telegraph from Melbourne says that Norman E. Brookes, Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood will play against the American team for the Davis cup. The dispatch adds that R. W. Heath or J. B. Hawkes will fill the fourth place on the Australian team.

TIGERS MAY BE TOUGH PICKINGS

Fox Stanton Has Oxy Layout in Grand Shape.

Expects to Have Juicy Sagehen Meal Tomorrow.

Orange and Black Said to Have Ace in Hole.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

The nifty football eleven of Pomona College, fast and shifty though it is, may face a decidedly tough Tiger on Patterson Field tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Fox Stanton has been bringing his Occidental charges along at a fast clip the past two weeks, and they will go into the fray with the Sagehens on the peak wave of their 1920 playing ability.

It is the positive opinion of Orange and Black supporters that the Tiger is going to have a nice, juicy meal of Sagehen meat. That the odds are all against an Occidental victory means little or nothing in their young academic lives.

ACE IN HOLE.

Occidental has an ace in the hole that may spill the Pomona beans. The ace is Holly Fulton, the spiral legged young man who does the heavy booting and the noble line plunging.

Fulton is a senior in college and never played an American game of football before the present season in his life. He passed his high school days in China, where he indulged in a few quaint socced contests. He burst into prominence this fall in the S.B.U.S. game. He was stuck into the going in the last period, and exhibited some real symptoms of ability right off the reel. Oxy men pooh poohed the statement that here was the making of a real player in the rough. "The coach just put

GUY SYLVESTER GRABS A TITLE.

"Old Man" Wins 100-Yard Swim in Good Time.

Marie Curtis Leads Field in 220-Yard Dash.

Opening Splash of Southern Season a Success.

Three A.A.U. championship events were decided last night in the opening splash of the 1920 swimming season in Southern California. The meet was held in the pool of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Old Man Guy Sylvester, whose bald plate has been sticking out in front in these parts for over a decade in the 100-yard dash, swam better than he has done for the past five years and breezed in first in his pet event. The time was 1m. 1 2-5s.

Jack Kilburn, who holds the southern record of 59 2-5s, was second, and Kenneth Carraher was third. All are L.A.A.C. men.

The 220-yard title swim for women served to introduce Marie Curtis, one of Fred Cady's latest pupils. This pretty little miss beat Thelma Darby to the tape by three-quarters of a length. Ferol Wallace of Ocean Park was third. The time was 3m. 10s.

The championship in the 200-yard men's breast stroke went to Ike Messenger, who finished a length to the good of Paul Nelson in 3m. 1-5s. Bobby Vibt was third.

The 100-yard dash for men was swum in two heats and a final. Sylvester won the first heat and Earl Whittaker the second. In the final Kilburn led to the first turn, but here Sylvester started to pull away and widened his lead to almost a length at the finish.

Besides the championship events there were several handicap races and diving exhibitions by both men and women performers. Ray Kegeris of the L.A.A.C. won the 100-yard back stroke race in 1m. 19s., followed by H. Bowers of the Y.M.C.A. and E. Wessick (unattached.)

Students See Crimson Squad in Last Tryout.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Nov. 18.—The Harvard student body, hundreds strong, saw their varsity eleven in action today in the stadium in the last practice before the team leaves for New Haven, where the game with Yale will be played Saturday. Coach Fisher said only one position was in doubt—left tackle—where Sedgwick and Faxon are in competition for the honor, with Sedgwick still tender from an injury. "Tom" Woods, the husky guard, has recovered and will play. The probable line-up is:

Left end, Kane; left tackle; Sedgwick or Faxon; left guard, Tolbert; center, Havemeyer; right guard, Woods; right tackle, Hubbard; right end, Crocker; quarterback, Fitzgerald; left halfback, Owen; right halfback, Churchill; fullback, Horween. The Crimson's triple threat of combined running, kicking and forward passing ability, is to be held in reserve.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 18.—The Yale squad had its final scrimmage before the Harvard game this afternoon. Work of the Blue tomorrow will consist of a twenty-minute signal drill, after which the Harvard squad will be given the use of the bowl for practice.

The probable line-up for the Harvard battle, as announced tonight, indicates that only six of the players that started the game against Princeton last Saturday will face the Crimson at the kickoff. A complete shift has been made in the backfield and Perry Bean, a 200-pound youth from Hartford, will be at right end. The probable line-up:

him in because he was a senior," they said.

WAS LIVE WIRE.

But Mr. Fulton has been marching right along ever since, and he soon became a fixture on the varsity. He outpunted Slippery Leadingham in the U.S.C. combat and dittoed against Lavagnino in the Caltek contest. Any man who can outkick these booters is deserving of something more than honorable mention.

"Pud" Hadden, the diminutive brother of Bob Hadden, who was varsity quarterback last year, is another Occidental player who has been breezing along in great shape. No larger than a good-sized wart, he has practically earned the right to start the game tomorrow by reason of his fight and courage.

FROSH PRELIM.

As a sort of an appetite whetter for the varsity contest the freshman teams of Occidental and Cal. Tech. will wage warfare on the field in a preliminary game, starting at 1 o'clock.

The Oxy "frosh" team boasts quite a foxy array of high-class material. They have played four games, winning two and losing two. Manual Arts defeated the Tiger yearlings early in the season, and Bakersfield High put the skids under them, 27 to 7. The S.B.U.C. "frosh" were beaten, 27 to 7, and the Santa Ana Junior College, 21 to 0. Here is the way the Oxy "frosh" line up:

McCloskey, left end; Phelps, left tackle; Hess, left guard; Ellsworth, center; Willett, right guard; Renius, right tackle; Argue, right end; Shoaf, quarterback; Spangler, left half; Norton, right half; Walker, fullback.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS ALL SET FOR FAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 18.—With each team engaged in secret practice for the past two weeks and under strict training rules, Santa Ana and Fullerton High Schools are all set for their annual Orange County League football championship game, and the team members are on edge for the fray, set for Saturday afternoon at Fullerton. This is the interesting game of the season in Orange county, and a record-breaking crowd of rooters will be on hand. Nearly all Fullerton stores and some Santa Ana stores will be closed during the game.

According to the dope, the Fullerton team is said to have the edge on the Santa Anans in weight and experience, but Santa Ana has fight and speed, and the two teams are generally conceded to be evenly matched. Quarterback Wilcox and Santa Ana's wide end runs are causing Fullerton some concern, 'tis said.

JACK SHARKEY TO MEET JOE LYNCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, has received a message from Jack Sharkey, who is in London, stating he would be in New York December 2 to carry out his agreement to meet Joe Lynch on that date.

The winner of the Lynch-Sharkey bout will meet Pete Herman here on December 21, Rickard said.

SAY JOHNSON HAS SIGNED WITH SOX.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 17.—It came from pretty good authority today that Ernie Johnson last night mailed a signed contract to Owner Comiskey of the White Sox. The contract reads for two years and the salary is flattering. Johnson will undoubtedly play short for the rejuvenated Sox. Ernie winters at Laguna Beach, near here, but frequently comes here. He managed the Salt Lake team last season.

Selling suits and overcoats for the same price as last year, and selling more. There is a reason!

It shows convincingly that the values we distributed last year were remarkable, and that they were highly appreciated by all; but while we are charging the same price for our garments as last year, we wish you all to remember that we are always at least one year ahead of the times from a value-giving point of view. For this very reason, our last year values were powerful enough to award us with big business this year. We are following the same good system this year that of giving unmatchable values in order to provide ourselves with bigger business next year. One hundred per cent values, and one hundred per cent service is what our patrons demand, and we are here to give it.

For Suits and Overcoats $50 For Suits and Overcoats

With the prices of woolens gradually declining, we are enabled to purchase for spot cash materials for our "fifty-dollar" specials, such as would ordinarily be utilized in the building of seventy-five dollar garments. They truly are gorgeous patterns, and look wonderful after being artistically tailored into men's wear. Our assemblage of woolens embraces nearly every shade and weave, including blue, black, gray, tan, brown, olive, chocolate and many others too numerous to mention.

Our shop windows will give you a fair idea why we are always so busy, and if you favor us with your order, you will know the reason we have such marked success.

die Sicking, the latter subsequently with the Reds. Neither could play that particular position above the minor league standard, and until Frankie Frisch recovered from his operation, Bancroft extended his activities into the zone of the difficult corner. Although there were four men in the infield, Bancroft was really half of it until Frisch got into uniform.

At the time of Bancroft's acquisition from the Phillies, it was announced as merely a trade involving the veteran Arthur Fletcher and Johnny Rawlins, secured by the Giants from Boston.

In reality, Bancroft cost the Giants one of the stiffest prices ever paid for a ball player, barring, of course, the Ruth deal. The exact price never was stated, but it was admitted to be in excess of $50,000, and this estimate did not include Hubbell, later turned over to the Phillies, a pitcher easily worth $5000.

Philadelphia's excuse for parting with Bancroft was that he was jakeing on the job, which was indignantly denied by the player, but partly justified, possibly, by his brilliant showing later. The money feature of the transaction at the time was covered up lest such a transaction during the season would injure the game.

Bancroft, by practically making the team and putting it in the race, justified the price paid for him several times over.

KEPPEN TO PULL OFF ANOTHER BOXING SHOW.

Another high-geared boxing show is to be put on at the Los Angeles Athletic Club the night of December 9, Athletic Manager Charley Keppen announced yesterday. The last one created so much interest and excitement among the pop-eyed bugs that Keppen has been importuned repeatedly for the date of the next program.

George Blake, the new boxing instructor of the club, is acting as matchmaker, and already has lined up eight fine and fancy looking bouts. Two of the amateur pugs on the tentative program hail from U.S.C., two from St. Joseph Institute and Dick Donald, the demon wrestling impresario, has promised to have a couple of lily pure amateur lads on hand.

NO CITY LEAGUE GRID GAMES ON FOR TODAY.

There will be no football games in the City League today. The final games will be played next Wednesday, Los Angeles meeting Poly, Manual tangling with Hollywood and Lincoln mixing with Jefferson. Coaches Johnson and Foster of Hollywood and Manual, respectively, had planned to stage their fray today, but the C.I.F. officials squelched the proposition, and all games will be played next Wednesday as scheduled.

NEW GRIFFITH STAR.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS ANGEL-FACE INGENUE.

By Grace Kingsley.

D. W. Griffith's life would appear to be just one shooting star after another. Having made Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh, the late Clarine Seymour and Carroll Dempster famous, now he has signed up a new one. Much mystery surrounds her identity, but it is known that she closely resembles Miss Seymour, whose death several months ago was so deeply regretted by her thousands of fan admirers.

The new star will play the leading role in the next Griffith picture. The famous director has just begun work.

This feature is a film version of another of Thomas Burke's Limehouse Nights tales. But, just by way of explanation, let it be known that this one is not a sad story at all. It is, in fact, said to be the only cheerful story Mr. Burke ever wrote. To make this story Mr. Griffith wished to sign up an angel-faced ingenue—one, in short, it would appear, who would look more innocent than anybody, even an ingenue, could possibly be.

At the time, Luella Parsons of the New York Telegraph pertinently inquired, regarding such a one, "Is she on Broadway?"

She wasn't, that much is known, but where she hails from is yet to be learned.

At any rate, she is said to entirely fulfill the plans and specifications, though she is not, as might be expected from the description, a blond.

The picture is to be made in Mr. Griffith's Mamaroneck studio. It is likely, however, that he will come west before the winter is over.

Talmadges Re-sign.

At last the suspense regarding the professional futures of those talented sisters, Norma and Constance Talmadge, is over. There was a rumor the other day that they were to leave the First National and sign up with the United Artists, but announcement yesterday was to the effect that the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., have, through their producer, Joseph M. Schenck, secured the signatures of the Talmadges to contracts by the terms of which they will continue for three years more to release through First National.

Seymour Tally, Hero.

You may now write "hero," after Seymour Tally's name if you want to. And we'll say when he goes out to save anybody, he doesn't pick any scum of creation either.

It was up at Big Bear Lake, where young Mr. Tally was recuperating from his arduous labors of cutting coupons, counting money, etc., down at Tally's Broadway, that said heroic act occurred.

The lady rescued was none other than the fair Bebe Daniels, Realart star, who was likewise vacationing far from the madding crowd.

In a fit of romantic dreaming, perhaps, the star had rowed alone, too far out on the lake, and failed to return. A big search party was organized with the doughty Seymour in the lead.

Boats went out hither and yon, in search of the young lady, and finally she was discovered, just as the sun was setting, rowing up into a bijou, quite away from the camp landing place. Miss Daniels was duly glad to be rescued, no doubt, but what she said was:

"Well, if these picture exhibitors aren't the limit! They can't stand us out of their sight a minute!"

Taylor Registers.

William D. Taylor yesterday made his appearance before the motion-picture camera as an actor, for the first time since 1913, when he played in a Vitagraph picture, entitled "Captain Alvarez," with Edith Story as his leading woman.

After that, Taylor didn't do any hard acting, other than that required when he tried to look real cross as a director, in an "Around the Lot" feature for one of the new weeklies.

William Farnum Buys Horses.

There's just no keeping that boy William Farnum quiet. Now word reaches me in a letter from New York that Mr. Farnum, not content with owning fast boats and catching fast fish, has just bought a string of race horses. He's going to stay back East and watch his first chance to put them on the turf, and in the meantime is keeping the wolf from the door by going back into Fox pictures following a four months' vacation.

Friedland to Celebrate.

Nobody in the Friedland act at the Orpheum is going hungry if Anatol himself has anything to say about it. Even at the risk of those pretty girls in his act gaining a few extra pounds overweight, he's going to provide them with a big turkey dinner with fixin's, which will be cooked and served Thanksgiving at the apartment of one of the young women.

Peduseh Denies.

From George Peduseh, known to the Orpheum circuit as the Creole Fashion Plate, comes a telegram frantically denying that he has signed up with any picture concern here. He says he does expect to return here and make films, but adds that as yet has made no connections with any firm, the printed assertions of a certain local producer to the contrary notwithstanding.

Ingenue Asks—

Don't actors ever have anything the matter with them except nervous breakdowns?

What becomes of an ingenue when she gets to be 40?

Who is the Pasadena man with whom Mildred Harris so often dined?

Why did that certain beautiful ingenue so suddenly leave a certain local stock company?

Maurice Tourneur Leaves.

Having recovered from his recent illness, Maurice Tourneur has left for New York, taking with him his last film, "The Last of the Mohicans," based on J. Fenimore Cooper's novel.

Jose Collins Weds.

Friends of Jose Collins, who are out here working in pictures, will be interested to learn that she has lately wed Lord Robert Innes-Ker, in London. She will continue with her stage work notwithstanding.

Max Linder Signs.

Announcement received yesterday was to the effect that arrangements have been consummated under the terms of which Max Linder, the French comedian, will star in a series of five-reel superspecial comedies to be presented by Robertson-Cole. Under the terms of the contract, Mr. Linder will make four pictures a year.

The first special Linder comedy to be released will be "Seven Years' Bad Luck," which title, by the way, looked at one way, does prove that Mr. Linder has an unusual sense of humor. It is said to be one of the best films he has ever made.

Linder's second story is now being adapted from the popular French play, "Coralie and company." It will go into production within the next two weeks at the new Robertson-Cole studios. Harry Caulfield has been engaged as the comedian's personal manager and representative.

George Larkin Here.

The handsome and dashing George Larkin has just returned from Canada, where he has been playing one of the star parts in "Corp. Cameron," and where he performed some of his famous thrilling stunts, including swimming and riding.

Lucille Carlyle Flits.

Lucille Carlyle, accompanied by her sister Helen, left yesterday for New York. Miss Carlyle plans on being in the East indefinitely. She probably will make a picture there before returning.

Universal Plans.

One of the first announcements by Carl Laemmle upon his arrival at Universal City was to the effect that he had arranged another Universal expeditionary force with Edie Polo as the star, J. P. McGowan as the director and Cuba as the destination.

A new serial called "The Seal of Satan," by Anthony Coldeway, will be filmed in Cuba, and other islands in the West Indies. The author will accompany the expedition.

Mr. Laemmle also announces that Hoot Gibson, the popular cowboy star, who has been making two-reel western pictures for U. will be luminary in a series of features beginning in two weeks. Jacques Jaccard will direct.

Helene Spoke Up.

"I've been depending on you," said Richard Dix to a woman friend the other day, "to get me a nice girl."

"Yes," interpolated Helene Chadwick, "you see Richard is a cripple."

Niles Welch With U.

Niles Welch, one of the most popular of the young leading men of the screen, has been placed under contract by Universal. He will first be seen in support of some of the Universal feminine stars, and later will be featured in photoplays especially written for him.

RADIOS.

MOROSCO PREMIERES.

TWO OF THEM ARE SCHEDULED FOR EARLY DATE.

By Edwin Schallert.

Having let two months of comparative quiet slip by, Oliver Morosco is now preparing to give Los Angeles a double premiere within a very short time. One of the new plays is "Marry the Poor Girl," now rehearsing for presentation at the Little Theater, and the other "The Gilded Cage," which will go on at the Morosco, following the engagement of "Why Marry?" the Nat Goodwin farce.

Mr. Morosco is personally supervising both productions. The cast of "Marry the Poor Girl," written by Owen Davis, is headed by Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, while others to appear are Freeman Wood, William Elliott, Ann May, Florence Oberle, Stanhope Wheatcroft, Reba Mitchell, George McAdams and May Hopkins.

Henry Duffey and Bertha Mann are to assume the principal roles in "The Gilded Cage," the remainder of the cast being made up practically in its entirety from regular members of the Morosco stock company. It is Mr. Morosco's intention to take both these plays to New York after the try-out here.

The fact that "Marry the Poor Girl" is to be presented, has not caused the manager to give up his plans for the production of that dramatic novelty, "Whistler," based on the life of the famous painter. It probably will follow the Davis farce.

Extra "Lester" Performance.

Arrangements have been made to give an extra performance of "Listen Lester," the musical comedy, Sunday night at the Mason. This Broadway success has attracted highly favorable comment from audiences at the Mason because of the excellence of the cast. Fred Heider is the featured player.

"Way Down East" Special.

Another special performance is the showing of "Way Down East," scheduled for tomorrow morning at Philharmonic Auditorium. This is being staged to enable parents to take children under 8 years, as at the regular presentations of the picture there is a rule against admitting them.

See Cadman Film.

The Uplifters of the Los Angeles Athletic Club attended the showing of "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water," the novelty musical picture presentation at the California Theater, this week. Their presence was a token of esteem for Charles Wakefield Cadman, the resident composer.

Favors Pastoral Opera.

Rene Williams, conductor of music at the Kinema Theater, has undertaken to boost rural life themes such as run through Charles Ray's picture "Peaceful Valley," as material for opera. He believes the serene beauty of American country life would make an agreeable setting for a story which should portray those aspirations and emotions fundamental in the pastoral existence. He thinks that a story could be evolved with sufficient dramatic clash to afford keen interest on the stage.

MAY USE RACING CAR.

Earl Cooper's racing car—the one with which he broke several records in days past—is used by May Allison, in "Are All Men Alike," to show at Tally's Broadway. The Cooper racing car appears in the Allison picture, when, as Teddy Hayden, the star establishes her reputation for dare-devil acts, which range from driving at break-neck speed about the country, to taking flights in an airplane over the Metro studios in Hollywood.

Richard Buhlig,

Soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra concert today.

OVERTURE INSPIRES.

Attractive Weber Number Will Close Symphony Program.

"Weber's 'Freischutz,' soon will be 100 years old, but its overture sounds as fresh and inspiring as though it had been written yesterday, or let us say, before 1914."—[Editor, Musical Courier.

This overture will close the symphony program of the Philharmonic Orchestra, Walter Henry Rothwell, conducting, this afternoon, when the orchestra plays its second symphony concert of the season.

Richard Buhlig, pianist, is to be the soloist this afternoon and tomorrow, when the program will be repeated.

The solo number will be Tschaikowsky's Concerto, for piano No. 1, in B Flat Minor, Op. 23. This concerto is believed suited to Mr. Buhlig's virile style of playing, and will give him opportunity to display his technique.

Much interest is aroused in his first solo appearance, partly because of the two lectures which he has already delivered on the symphony programs, and which have attracted music lovers and students.

The symphony will be Cesar Franck's Fifth, in D Minor.

Three Firemen Held for Theft Deny Charges.

Three city firemen held in the City Jail on robbery charges in connection with the theft last Wednesday of $125 from Mrs. Kate Chutuk of 3107 Upper Boulevard, yesterday denied the charges. The men held are Frank McRae, C. Biscallus and E. R. Cody. The police say they went to Mrs. Chutuk's home to solicit subscriptions for the Red Cross.

Detectives Longuevan, J. J. Hickey and Reed, who arrested the three, say that when Mrs. Chutuk returned to the front room with money for her donation, her callers struck her on the head with some kind of a weapon and took $125 from her bedroom.

The police were notified of the robbery by a neighbor who saw three men hurry away from the house in an automobile. The license number of the machine led to the arrests.

Fire Chief Scott ordered the three placed on the suspended list. The cases will come before the Board of Fire Commissioners.

LUNACY DOCTOR IS SURPRISE WITNESS.

AIDS MRS. CONNALLY'S PLEA OF INSANITY IN TRIAL FOR GUN ATTACK.

Coming as a surprise witness yesterday in Judge Craig's court, Dr. Lottie C. Park, a member of the Lunacy Commission, gave testimony in support of the temporary insanity defense of Mrs. Lillian Connally, accused of assault with a deadly weapon upon Mrs. Nellie Furgason. Dr. Park testified that a strain of insanity was in the family of Mrs. Connally. She said that in March, 1919, she examined Roswell D. Trask, father of the defendant, and found that he was suffering from insanity of a hereditary nature.

Efforts were made by Dep. Dist. Atty. Van Cott to establish the whereabouts of the father, but, following several clashes between counsel, the court ruled against his questions. The trial was featured by bitterness between the Connally and Furgason families and personalities by the attorneys. These drew reprimands from the court.

Mrs. Furgason spent nearly three hours on the stand, telling of her association with Connally to appraise real estate. She gave details of the first visit of Mrs. Connally to her residence at 1250 West Forty-seventh street where she said if Mrs. Connally had any objections she would not see the husband any more. She also told of a second visit, when Mrs. Connally carried there a letter written by Mrs. Furgason to Connally, and the shooting followed. Mrs. Furgason was shot three times. A physician's certificate was produced showing that Connally was unable to be in court because of illness.

SCORED BY COURT.

Real Estate Dealer Pays Double for Defrauding Nurse.

Lucille Richards, who sued J. W. Ormdorff, a real estate dealer, for $375 damages, was awarded $750 in Judge Wood's court yesterday, the extra amount being by way of punishment for his conduct in connection with the sale of a house and lot for Miss Richards, who is a nurse.

The evidence showed that though she wanted cash he induced her to trade her equity for lots, saying he did not have a cash buyer. He then sold the equity for cash and cleaned up $550. Judge Wood scored the real estate man, saying that "to defraud a young nurse as the defendant had done was inexcusable and gross."

TO FIGHT FOR BABIES.

Squared-Circle Stars to Appear on Stage Tonight; Film Folks Too.

Half a score of the prominent local boxers and wrestlers will join with half a score of the cinema stars, and with a score of film "bathing beauties" tonight in giving a benefit entertainment at Trinity Auditorium, the proceeds from which will be used to fill the milk bottles of poor and underfed babies in Los Angeles, and to buy clothes and warm bedding for babies in families so poor that they cannot properly clothe their young children. The performance is being given under the auspices of the Southern California Child Welfare League, which will direct the expenditure of the profits.

FREE FROM WIFE WHO DISLIKED WHITTIER.

Jefferson G. Wingert, City Attorney of Whittier, was granted a divorce on his cross-complaint to the separate maintenance suit of Martha J. Wingert. He testified she did not like Whittier and wanted to live in Los Angeles. He told her that as City Attorney of Whittier he could not live in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wingert did not appear in court, and the decree was given on the ground of desertion.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Retailers at Last Get the Big Idea; Banker Talks; News Briefs.

BY CHAPIN HALE.

Trade in its larger sense is going through a very interesting and exciting phase at the present time. A battle is waging between the retailer, the wholesaler and the manufacturer on the one hand and the ultimate consumer on the other hand. The manufacturer was the first to recognize the necessity of changing his attitude and bringing his production and his overhead back to normal. So he took in sail, reduced his operating force, cut his profits, revised output, readjusted prices, took his losses where necessary, and announced himself ready for business as usual.

The wholesaler was a little slower in seeing the handwriting on the wall, but he finally got the idea and radical price cuts in staple commodities followed. The wholesaler, it should be remembered, was fairly well sold out when the movement started, and it was comparatively easy to pass the buck to the retailer.

The latter found the dose a bitter one. Some refused it entirely. Others changed physicians, and still others sugar coated the pills and cut down their size. As a result the ultimate consumer, the man and the woman who support the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retailer, read a lot of theory about lower prices which he was unable to put into practice when he started on a shopping tour.

The retailer, or some of him, has been unwilling to balance the score and sell goods purchased at a high price on the new level, although he was entirely willing to advance his prices and sell them higher than his invoice warranted when the trend was upbound.

The consumer, on his part, has retaliated with the only weapon at his command, but a weapon that is entirely efficacious, he stopped buying except for his absolute and immediate requirements. That is what has been the matter, and the present stirring about is the returning consciousness of the retailer awakening to a realization that it is his next move. He will make it—is making it—and that is why prices are sliding.

Our buying power still exists. This is especially true in the Pacific Southwest, but the consumer is tired of being stung. Experts say that underconsumption instead of overproduction is at the root of the present state of the market, and they are doubtless right. Our banking power is stronger than ever, the consumer is still dominant and the problem is working itself out with mathematical precision.

FARMERS AND MERCHANTS.

The monthly financial letter of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank will be out today. "On the whole," this institution contends, "there is nothing alarming in present conditions. We are gradually getting out of the clouds and back to earth.

"Los Angeles and its surrounding territory is enjoying an era of unparalleled prosperity. Building is active and above normal. The Los Angeles water department has set an unprecedented number of meters in a very short time. Mr. Mulholland of that company informed the writer that the water company's records would indicate an increased population in Los Angeles of 60,000 souls since the census was taken. People are now coming to us at the rate of 2800 per day. Officials of the transportation companies say that the rush this way is unprecedented. All of the people coming here seem to have means. They must be housed, clothed, fed and cared for. This, in itself, creates a wonderful activity in business conditions.

MANUFACTURERS BUSY.

"Manufacturers here are all busy. New enterprises are daily being started. Labor is well employed. The purchasing power of the people is very large. Unfortunately, the lemon, beet, bean and grain growers are not realizing as high prices as the cost of production justifies, but they have had several good years and must meet the situation heavely. Every business, trade or calling will, at times, meet with adverse conditions. We have as few of them as any other section of the globe. The orange crop for the coming season is in good condition, and, with fairly active business conditions prevailing throughout the country, will again bring its golden harvest into this community.

"The pack of canned goods in Southern California in 1920 was not as large as the pack of 1919. Shipments of fruits, both citrus and deciduous, however, largely exceeded the shipments thereof in 1919. Shipments of vegetables are constantly increasing, adding considerable to the annual receipts of their growers.

"It now looks as if the tourist influx this coming winter will be even larger than that of last year."

EXTRAVAGANCE CHARGED.

The writer, presumably the president of the bank, J. A. Graves, contends that the greatest drawback is the extravagance of government which has resulted in a tax levy which would bankrupt a less prosperous community. "The wasting of public funds," he said, "appears to be a disease, contagious and virulent. The present county charter is an invitation and opportunity to shameless waste and extravagance. It was the outgrowth of progressive politics which has plunged California into an era of extravagance seldom witnessed in government affairs."

FOREIGN COMMERCE.

In discussing foreign commerce it is said that well-posted authorities predict that the export trade of the United States for 1920 will run up to $8,000,000,000, while our imports will amount to $6,000,000,000, leaving the balance of trade in our favor of $2,000,000,000, as against $4,000,000,000 in 1919.

In 1920 our export of manufacturing goods has largely increased while that of food products has diminished. This fact, coupled with immensely large crops, is responsible for the present slump in everything that the farmer produces.

"The business world," the letter says in conclusion, "must expect continued high interest rates, further declines in commodity prices, increased unemployment and a fall in the wage scale."

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

Market yesterday was a continuation of that which has prevailed throughout the week, only more so. Leased wires to New York were working badly, and traders were nervously apprehensive. The Eastern conditions were unsettling and this circumstance found reflection in the market here, resulting in the establishment of several new low records. Volume was light and prices demoralized.

Oils were weak, although there appeared no fundamental reason for this. Associated registered a net loss of three and one-half points over the Wednesday close and sold down to 101¼. Mazoot, four points, sales going over at 1.70. Delaware Union made a new low of 23 1-4 cents and the California company dropped two points. Two thousand shares of Central brought $1 although this listing has been inactive for some time awaiting an up-turn. Republic Petroleum and United held their own.

In the mines, matters were just as bad. United Eastern tumbled six points to sales at 2.60, the lowest point reached in several weeks. Tom Reed, Telluride and United American were weak, but managed to hold their own in the price column.

Goodyear preferred was the leader in the industrial group, a considerable amount of the stock being offered. The price broke from an opening of 70 to sales at 63, which established a low mark for this listing. Bonds were inactive and without material change in price.

BUSINESS HAMPERED.

Brokerage business in Los Angeles yesterday was seriously hampered by wire trouble resulting from heavy storms in the East. Many quotations failed to get through at all, and it was long after the normal closing time before the day's business had been cleared and confirmations received.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.

The bringing in of a 1500-barrel well by the Standard in the Huntington Beach field has again directed attention to that section where developments seem to indicate the presence of an oil pool that will be highly productive. The new strike is known as Bolsa No. 1 and is a mile north of the Standard's No. 2 Huntington Beach well, on the property of the Bolsa Chica Gun Club.

The oil is of 22 to 24 degrees gravity, and the output is considerably larger than that of the first two Huntington Beach wells, which are producing at the rate of 400 to 500 barrels a day. The well came in at a depth of 3500 feet.

VAST POWER STOREHOUSE.

Hydroelectric projects in California are on a scale so vast that their extent is not yet realized by most of the people of the State. According to a report made to the Governor by the Railroad Commission, projects are under way, which, when completed, will add 275,000 kilowatts to the State's output of electric energy. Of this amount 250,000 kilowatts is hydro and 25,000 kilowatts is steam.

The Commission expresses the belief that California will never again face so serious a power situation as that of 1919-20, a shortage occasioned by three years of scanty rainfall and an increased demand.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Liquidation of securities on the stock exchange made further perceptible progress today, the reaction being again accompanied by unsettlement in various branches of commerce and industry and additional confusion in the leading commodity markets.

Today's losses were sustained in the face of the easiest money conditions known for many weeks. Call loans opened at 7 per cent, and relaxed to 6 per cent during the mid-session, while time funds were more freely offered than at any period since the early autumn. One of the significant developments was the passing of the quarterly dividend on the common shares of American International. That stock suffered an extreme loss of 11 points at 38 1-4, making only a feeble recovery later. It was the signal for enormous selling of other shippings, Mercantile Marine, pfd., making a net loss of 5¾ points, United Fruit 3⅝, and Atlantic, Gulf 3¾.

United States Steel made a new low for three years at 80⅝, but lost only 1 point on the day. Among the other outstanding features of weakness were the independent steels, equipments, motor specialties and tobacco and leather issues, at gross recessions of 1 to 6 points.

Sales amounted to 1,150,000 shares.

Foreign exchange, especially the British rate, was strong during the morning, but reacted sharply later.

Heavy trading in bonds, including Liberty issues and internationals, was attended by variable but moderate declines. Total sales (par value) aggregated $16,875,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LOW OPENING IN NEW YORK COTTON.

MARKET RALLIES FEW POINTS ON COVERING; WEAK AND UNSETTLED THOUGH.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—As there was little improvement in outside conditions and southern advices continued bearish the cotton market opened 5 to 28 points lower today but then rallied a few points on covering. Rumors that the National Ginners' figures on ginning were 8,840,000 bales were considered bearish, comparing with 7,604,000 bales by the government to the same date last year. Later active months were about 7 or 8 points net lower.

Despite slight rallies the market was weak and unsettled and prices kept breaking into new low ground, selling 45 to 50 points net lower during the morning. The easier spot situation and the easier turn in sterling exchange rates were depressing influences.

The decline extended to 55 to 60 points in the afternoon.

Wheat Makes Its Highest Prices Early in Chicago

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Liquidation was on in corn and oats. With lack of support other than from shorts and holders of hide prices dropped to new low figures on the crop and closed with net losses of 1⅛ to 2⅛ cents on corn and ... cents on oats. At the inside corn was off 12⅞@12⅝ cents and oats 6¼@7½ cents under the high of the previous week. The undertone was heavy at the last. Wheat made its highest price early and the lowest toward the last and finished 5⅛ cents lower. Rye was off 1⅝@3¼ cents and barley 3½ cents.

Early buying of wheat was responsible for a sharp upturn. Later the weakness in coarse grains led to general selling and a break of 6⅛@7⅛ cents from the high. December showing 11⅛ cents under the high of the previous day. Sentiment was mixed but the undertone was not very weak.

Buying of December corn early by commission houses, with the strength in wheat made a rather firm market, but later there was general commission-house selling in small lots attributed to liquidation by scattered longs and the market broke sharply.

Trade in oats was mainly local but the pit element was bearish and with limited outside support, prices declined to a new low on the crop.

BARLEY WEAK DESPITE LIMITED RECEIPTS.

A decline of 5 cents in the Chicago market for barley, together with a sharp slump in the San Francisco market for this cereal yesterday, caused an easier tone to develop for all deliveries on the local grain exchange yesterday. In the immediate shipments, ten-day barley slumped 75 cents per ton, while the fifteen and twenty-day deliveries were 25 cents per ton lower at the close of the session. The future months declined 50 cents per ton, with sales of all December at $2.10. Milo was dull and weaker, the transit article being off a drop of 25 cents per ton while the ten-day delivery was $1 lower. No sales of milo were transacted. Cars of Utah-Idaho mixed feed sold at $47 and $47.25.

BOLSA CHICA! STANDARD No 3! TEXCAL!

Examiner Nov. 17th 1920

NEW BEACH OIL WELL ON RAMPAGE

Standard Oil Company well No. 3 on the Bolsa Chica ranch near Huntington Beach went on a rampage last night.

First it blew out and completely wrecked the pump and other machinery set up to draw oil out of the well.

Then it spurted oil in such quantity and with such force that persons within a radius of one and a half miles found their clothes ruined by oil drops.

The rain of fine oil spray is believed to have killed many valuable trees within a similar radius. Within two and a half miles of the well, the smell of gas was so strong as to be disagreeable.

Three hundred men worked all evening trying to get the huge gusher under control. A great deal of oil went to waste, but, holes hastily dug caught enough to more than pay for ruined trees and damaged clothing and wrecked machinery.

The well, which was "brought in" two days ago, is said to be the second largest in Southern California. It was believed late last night that it would be capped successfully by early morning.

That is the lineup of wells in the Huntington Beach gusher field. Bolsa Chica is pouring forth oil in such force that accurate measurement is impossible. Standard No. 3 is ready to be drilled in. Texcal is next. Our well has already secured showings fully equal to those in previous wells in this field. The next few days should see it cemented off just above the gusher sands.

1,000 to 10,000 Barrels

We look for production of 1000 barrels at least. There is every indication that our production will equal Bolsa Chica's tremendous flow. Our log is running true with Standard's producers, and we are absolutely confident of a big well.

ANGLO-AMERICAN OIL CO.
(Standard Oil Subsidiary)

Income yield on Anglo is 8¼% at $20 per share, but as in eight past years it has averaged 25% cash dividend and 150% in stock and rights, the owners of the stock who received these had both their principal and income compounded several times and are receiving what may be termed "compound" income on their investment, as the dividend applies on top of stock received as dividend and rights as well as on stocks originally purchased, and is paying a larger rate of dividend now than was paid originally.

A Christmas Message to the Women of Los Angeles—

It's mighty hard for the women folks to know just what men like for Christmas—just what they really want. We talk with a lot of men every day. We've learned pretty well what their likes and dislikes are—when it comes to clothes. Opinions differ on some things, but the vote for Manhattan Shirts is unanimous.

Every man knows that the Manhattan name on his shirt means that it's the best shirt in the world. He'd rather have one Manhattan than two or three of some unknown make. When you give him Manhattans you can be sure he'll be pleased—and he'll give you the credit for knowing "what's what."

We've reduced the prices on Manhattans so that you can get them now at next year's markings.
